Believe Nickey Site Is Final Choice For P.O.

Government Is Expected to Assume Responsibility In Condemnation

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 13.—
(UP).—The treasury today accepted that part of a proposed postoffice site in Santa Ana, Cal., between Sixth and Seventh streets offered by F.
P. Nickey for the sum of $18,500.

THE TELEGRAM received by Postmaster T. E. Stephenson from Congressman Phil Swing yesterday, advising that the treasury department had given first preference to the F. P. Nickey offer for a site here for a post office building, is believed by interested parties here to indicate that the government will accept the site and assume responsibility for acquiring additional property to complete the number of square feet required by the post office department for a post office structure, 35,500 feet.

The direct offer of Nickey comprises a piece of 175 by 125 and embraces the lot on which the Congregational parsonage is located at the corner of Seventh and Bush, with a frontage of 75 feet on Bush; the J. C. Metzgar property, with frontage of 50 feet on Bush;
the lot of Mrs. A. C. Williams, also having a frontage of 50 feet on Bush, and 25 feet off the rear of lots fronting on Spurgeon street and owned by W. L. Salisbury and J. C. Metzgar.

It was known that the last proposition submitted to W. A.
Newman, supervisor of public government buildings in this district, was an offer of this property at $18,500. The difference between the quoted price and that which the property owners will be paid has been raised by subscription by parties interested in securing selection of the site for a post office building.

The offer was made with the proviso that the government assume responsibility for condemnation proceedings that will be necessary, apparently, to acquire the lot of William Besser, on the northeast corner of Sixth and Bush streets, having a frontage of 75 feet on Bush and depth of 125 feet, that same as the other lots facing on that street in the block between Sixth and Seventh streets, and a piece 25 by 75 off the rear of property owned by the Dr. J. L. Dryer estate.

An appropriation of $50,000 has been made by the government for the purchase of a site here and it is the opinion of some of the parties interested in the proposed site that the final cost to the government of all the properties will not exceed that sum.

It was presumed that Nickey would be one of the first parties advised in case of selection of this site, but as yet he has received no word from the treasury department.

NYE IMMIGRATION MEASURE DEFEATED

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(UP)—
The senate today defeated the Nye resolution, which would have discharged the senate immigration committee from jurisdiction over legislation to repeal the national origins clause of the immigration act.

The vote was 37 to 43.

Heat Frustrates Efforts Of Crews Fighting Oil Fire

SANTA FE SPRINGS, June 13.—
(UP)—Crews of workmen combating the fire burning since Monday in the oil fields here agreed today that the blaze might not be extinguished for days.

The fire has been confined to two wells, Rhodes No. 1 and McKeon
No. 2, with a loss estimated at approximately $4,000,000.

Express Grave Fear For Captives Of Tribesmen

PARIS, June 13.—(UP)—
Eight battalions of the French Foreign Legion, mounted and under full marching orders, were hastening across the muddy plateaus of Morocco today in the hope of rescuing three-score comrades from fastnesses of the Atlas mountains, where they are being held captive by a band of North Africa tribesmen.

The prisoners were members of a French patrol, which was attacked while attempting pacification of the district.
The natives of which never had become fully reconciled to the rule of the Europeans.

According to the French ministry of war today, the list of casualties was the same as that which had first been reported from Rabat—13 of the legionnaires killed, 10 injured and 66 missing, the latter detached from the main body of the patrol and taken prisoner by the wild-riding native horsemen.

Great fear was felt here for the fate of the prisoners.
Among the captives are seven officers of the Foreign Legion, 11 non-commissioned officers.

Forty of the captives are white and it is about these whites that the war ministry is principally concerned, in view of the fact that the Morocco natives are known for their mistreatment and torture of white, Christian prisoners.

Two French officers and two French non-commissioned officers were among the wounded. The extent of the casualties inflicted by the French upon the natives was not known.

OFFICER SHOT AWAIT DONOVAN DETROIT BOY IN PROPOSAL FOR 'LINE OF DUTY' WATER DIVISION

Treasury Spokesman Says Border Slaying Justified, Excusable

WASHINGTON, June 13.—
(UP)—The shooting of Archibald Eugster, an alleged runner, in Detroit by border patrolmen was done "in regular line of duty" and was considered an "excusable and justified," a treasury spokesman said today.

Officials awaited a full report concerning the shooting of Henry Virkuha, Big Falls, Minn., confectioner, in International Falls, Minn., before expressing an opinion.

Prohibition Commissioner Doran conferred with Secretary Mellon this morning about dry enforcement on the border. Officials subsequently said there has been less liquor smuggling since the border patrols were augmented.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury
Seymour Lowman, in charge of prohibition enforcement, issued the following official statement:

"We have received final reports from the customs agents with reference to the shooting of Eugster, an alleged run runner, by Johan Cox, customs border patrolman. A customs picket boat, manned by two customs patrolmen, was stationed near the mouth of the river Rouge in the city of Detroit. They discovered a run runner going into the River Rouge and pursued her. The run runner had a crew of four men. The government boat had two men. Just before the government boat overhauled the run runner, the run runner was beached and the men escaped into the brush.

"The customs picket boat had orders not to leave the station and so one of the customs agents went to call help from the base to take charge of the run runner's boat and its cargo of Canadian liquor, leaving one customs patrol agent in

Barrymore, Hearst, Attacked In New Equity Newspaper

HOLLYWOOD, June 13.—(UP)— Bitter attacks against Lionel Barrymore and William Randolph Hearst were contained in the first issue today of the "Actors' Equity News of Hollywood," founded to carry Equity's fight to introduce the closed shop to Hollywood film studios.

"During the stage strike in New York when Barrymore was an actor
he favored Equity's stand," an editorial titled "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" read. "Now that he is sitting back in a comfortable director's chair he opposes the very ideals which he favored when he was an actor."

The editorial was occasioned by a formal statement from Barrymore in which he said he saw no necessity for Equity attempting to intrude in the studios and in which he backed up the stand of the Motion Picture Producers' association, which opposes Equity's demands.

LONDON, June 13.—(UP)—David elected party chairman at a meeting of the parliamentary Liberal party at the National Liberal club today.

Trio Expects To Reach Goal In 30 Hours

American Hopes Dashed as 'Green Flash' Piles Up On Takeoff Attempt

OLD ORCHARD, Me., June 13.—

(UP)—Three French flyers, braving the Atlantic air trail, hopped off for their homeland today with Paris their goal, while their friendly rivals, two Americans, came close to disaster in what was to have been a transatlantic air race.

Eleven minutes after the giant ochre-winged French monoplane, Yellowbird, had made a perfect takeoff at 10:10 a. m., on its long-deferred attempt flight to Paris, Pilot Roger Q. Williams and Nav-igator Lewis A. Yancy narrowly escaped serious injury when their Green Flash ploughed into the sand and was wrecked.

Speeding down the crescentshaped beach in an attempt to hop off on their projected 4750-mile flight to Rome, the veteran American airmen had travelled only a third of a mile when their 6500-pound craft tore into the soft sand and almost overturned.

Meanwhile, having overcome a weather flax which kept them landbound about three weeks,
Pilot Jean Assolant, Navigator
Rene Lefevre and Radio Operator Armento Lottl jr., were proceeding northeastward toward Cape Sable, with the expectation of reaching Paris in 30 hours.

Hundreds of beach spectators, who had witnessed the beautiful takeoff of the 13,700-pound French plane were unprepared for the mishap which eliminated the much lighter craft from the transatlantic race.

The Green Flash, a third of a mile from the starting point at the north end of the beach, was edging toward the water when suddenly both wheels sank in the sand.

It whipped sharply forward and its nose ploughed into the tidesoftened beach.

Williams and Yancy, nervous and excited, were disappointed but unhurt.

SUSPECT CLOSELY RESEMBLING WILLIAM TALLMAN IS HELD FOR IDENTIFICATION IN BAY CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—(UP)—A flurry of excitement was created here today when an unconscious man, closely resembling William L. Tallman, was brought to the Central Emergency hospital. Nurses on duty, struck by the resemblance of the patient to published pictures of the radio operator sought in connection with the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty, in Los Angeles, notified police at once.

Detectives hurried to the hospital and reported that the unconscious man's face resembles exactly pictures of Tallman.

Fingerprints were taken and telegraphed to Los Angeles for comparison with those of the radio operator, which were found in the apartment where Mrs.
Patty met death and which later were identified as being the imprints of Tallman's fingers.

Unconscious From Gas

The man was brought to the hospital unconscious from gas. He had been found in an uptown apartment. The doors and windows had been stuffed with paper and a gas fixture ripped off to permit fumes to pour into the room.

Joseph Langerin was the name under which the man had registered at the apartment-hotel at 691 Broadway. Nothing concerning him was known by the landlord.

The only discrepancy between the mystery man at the hospital and the description of Tallman is the height.

Wearing Blue Suit

A blue serge suit and black shoes answered the description of clothing worn by Tallman when he disappeared from the Admiral Benson while en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

All marks of identification had been torn from the clothing and the suit had been washed recently. Police said there was blood on the lining of the vest.

The landlord at the Broadway address insisted, however, that he had noticed no similarity between the patient and pictures of Tallman.

Detective Emmett Hogan, of the bureau of identification, took fingerprints of the suspect. Later he said that while he did not have other prints for comparison that the general classifications do not agree with those of Tallman.

Identification, or proof that the suspect is not the fugitive radio operator, will come from Los Angeles, he said.

Mysterious Element

Another mysterious element was revealed in a telephone call to the hospital concerning the man.
An unidentified man called.

were engaged in pursuit maneuvers when the collision occurred.

HOOVER MAY GET BILL BY END OF WEEK

Measure Will Go Back to Conference. But Senate Will Not Renew Battle

BALLOT 113 TO 250

Only Seven Minutes Taken To Make Administration Farm Victory Complete

BY PAUL R. MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 13.—

(UP)—In seven minutes, without a word of discussion, the house today went through the motions of eliminating the debenture plan from the administration's farm bill and sent the bill back to conference with the senate.

The vote on the debenture was 113 for debenture and 250 against.

More Democrats bolted to the president than Republicans against him. Thirteen Republicans deserted Mr. Hoover and supported the debenture while 34 Democrats aided with Mr. Hoover against debenture. Most of the bolting Democrats were Tammany representatives from New York.

The strict rules of the house were invoked by Republican leaders to shut off debate and prevent any expression of opinion regarding the debenture feature so strongly opposed by the house leaders and by President Hoover, although twice admitted by the senate.

When the house met at noon there was some minor business and then Chairman Hugen, of the house agriculture committee, moved that the house take up "house bill number 15, the famous farm bill."

"I don't want to take up any time with discussion of the debenture and I move the previous question on my motion," Hugen said. The Republican majority was out in full strength and when Speaker Longworth put Hugen's motion to a voled vote, it was adopted immediately.

Jones Is Ignored

Representative Jones, the Texas Democrat, who has championed the debenture in the house, then shouted for recognition. He had a motion favorable to the debenture in his hand and a speech for it in his pocket. He never got to deliver either.

Longworth ignored Jones and recognized Floor Leader John Q.
Tilson, friend of the president. Tilson moved that the house conferees be specifically instructed to insist on striking out "section 10 of the bill, the so-called debenture plan."

"I think this will conclude the controversy," said Tilson. "It is the quickest and perhaps the only way to get the bill passed. I move the previous question on my motion."

Longworth put Tilson's motion through with a slap of his gavel, and the house was effectively gagged against any further discussion. The Democratic floor leader, John Garner, of Texas, immediately demanded a roll call to put all the members of the house on record as to how they stand on the debenture. There were shouts of "No! no!" from the Republican side, but when all the Democrats arose, the Republicans knew it would be useless to protest and at the wave of Tilson's hand they arose in a body and agreed to take the record vote.

RUM RING TRIAL UNDER WAY IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—(UP)—
The trial of Maurice Sugarman, alleged to have headed a gigantic Southern California liquor ring, and members of the asserted combine, continued here today in federal district court.

Under a ruling by Judge James late yesterday after the selection of a jury, Col. Leo A. Stromes, World war hero and former head of federal dry forces in San Diego, Ralph Moreley, former federal agent, and H. G. Gamage, former Los Angeles dry field agent, were granted severance of trials and their cases set for the September term of court.

It was expected that Ione Beck, owner of a ranch near Sunset Beach, would be called to the stand today as an important witness for the government.

Superintendent Elected By Nazarene Delegate

NEW PASTORS APPOINTED AT CHURCH MEET

The Rev. J. T. Little was elected district superintendent in the business session of the Southern California district assembly, Church of the Nazarene, at the Ebell clubhouse today.

Other ministers on the ballot for the official position of district superintendent were the Rev. J. W. Short, the Rev. U. E. Harding, the Rev. Melva Brown, the Rev. Ernest Roberts, the Rev. L. U. Fogg, the Rev. T. G. Lineweaver, Dr. J. H. Sloan, the Rev. H. H. Hooker, the Rev. L. A. Reed and the Rev. J. T. Little.

The Rev. Mr. Reed moved that the nominating ballot be the election of Little and made unanimous, and it was so carried. The Rev. Mr. Goodwin was elected and $22 votes were cast.

Another feature of business was the announcement of the incoming ministers. They are the Rev. E. M. Grades, the Rev. J. L. Blaisdell, the Rev. E. J. Ewell and the Rev. F. W. Johnson, of Northern California; Mrs. Ida Gibbons, of Arkansas; Mrs. Myrtle M. White, of Arizona; the Rev. W. E. Ellis, of Hamilton, Texas; the Rev. O. L. Wright, Arizona; the Rev. M. R. Dutton, from Northern California; the Rev. H. H. Hooker, Alabama district; Mrs. M. J. Hooker, Alabama district; D. I. Vanderpool, Colorado district; the Rev. Orval J. Nease and the Rev. R. A. Shank, Ohio district; the Rev. Ernest G. Robertson and Mrs. Jamie E. Roberts, Arizona district; the Rev. A. O. Hendricks, Tennessee district; the Rev. E. Arthur Anderson, and the Rev. E. Arthur Lewis, Northwest district; the Rev. C. Scoggins, Hamlin district; the Rev. L. N. Fogg, Iowa district; the Rev. W. I. De Board, Missouri district.

Out going ministers are as follows:

Frank O'Hair, to Western Oklahoma district; W. J. Rogers, to New York district; Geo. L. Chesmore, to North Dakota district; Mrs. Edna Chesmore, to North Dakota district.

In his morning address at the assembly today Dr. R. T. Williams spoke on the second of his three topics, "How can we finance the church?"

"I don't want us to get the idea that being faithful is sufficient," he said, "I want results. We might just as well face our weaknesses and face the facts, we can't get around it, we are all human and we must have results or our faithfulness will amount to very little."

"Now, how are we to finance the church? I'll tell you. I'll tell you how and first we must give the people a definite, clear cut program

DEBENTURE IS VOTED DOWN BY LOWER HOUSE

roller of the house work more effectively. Republican leaders were determined only to follow the instructions of President Hoover and give the senate what it has been demanding, a record vote from the house on the debenture.

The bill will be sent to conference later in the day and the debenture plan will be speedily eliminated, because senate leaders already have promised they will not fight further if the house voted on it.

When the senate recedes both houses will have to go through the formality of approving the decision. This may be concluded by tomorrow night unless new objections arise. There is a prospect therefore that the bill will be on the way to the White House for signature before the end of the week.

The house action which apparently wrote an end to the long and complicated debenture fight, came on the anniversary of the second day of the Republican national convention in Kansas City, where the platform committee just at this time a year ago was hearing the appeals from an army of marching farmers who stormed the Labor temple where the hearings were held, demand an adequate farm plank.

Provides for Board

With the debenture eliminated, the bill provides establishment of a federal farm board of eight members to be appointed by the president to administer with the secretary of agriculture a federal revolving fund of $500,000,000. The board will promote a closer coordination between the various cooperative organizations and supervise the establishment of stabilization corporations to buy and sell surplus products with loans from the government.

The debenture provision would have given the farmers a tariff bounty of half the tariff rates on agriculture products for export.

TALLMAN SUSPECT HELD IN BAY CITY

Driver L. A. Robinson answered the telephone. The man calling in wanted to know "about Langerin."

Steward Ed Collins went to look at the man, while Robinson asked the caller how long he had known "Loangerin."

"A long time," was the reply, but when pressed to be definite the man said, "Oh, a few hours."

"Well, you better come down here and identify him right away. We think he's Tallman," Robinson said.

There was no answer. The receiver clicked. The caller had hung up.

that they can see through or think they see through. You can't ask people to give in the dark.

POSSES HUNT FOR IDAHO KIDNAPERS

car rolled into the ditch. No one was seriously hurt."

Kinne then related how the four men marched him into a field near the road. Tribbey and Kille, who drove by, perceived the action of the bandits and set chase on foot, overtaking them in the woods.

Killet set upon the bandits with his fists and was shot in the leg above the knee and sustained a painful beating from the bandits who swung the butts of their guns upon him. Tribbey was beaten also.

The bandits then loaded the three men into Tribbey's automobile and drove them to a point near Greer, a short distance from Orofino, where they robbed Tribbey of $200 and Kinne of $14.

The victims then were marched into the timber at a remote spot and were tied to trees.

Walk To Orofino

Tribbey said he managed to extract his knife from his pocket and immediately cut the bonds and freed his two companions. They then walked to Orofino and notified authorities.

An airplane used late Wednesday in the hunt for the four bandits has returned to Lewiston, the officials believe that the men are making an attempt to escape over one of several highways leading out of this section.

Sheriffs of northern and southern Idaho and eastern Washington posted guards along all important highways as the scope of the search expanded.

Lieutenant-Governor Kinne, despite the fact that he rode his automobile when it crashed over an embankment while going at a terrific pace, was not injured.

Kille, who was shot in the leg, was reported to be in fair condition in the Orofino hospital this morning.

charge of the government picket boat and its prize. Shortly after that the runners returned and tried to recapture their boat and its cargo and in the struggle that ensued, Eugster was shot by Customs Patrolman Cox.

It was so evident that the shooting by Cox was done in the regular line of duty that the local authorities made no arrest and exonerated Cox from any charge.

"We have not yet received a full report of the case by Border Patrolman White, who shot one Virkula in International Falls, but we have received advices that the report is on the way here in the mails."

INVESTIGATE SHOOTING IN NEW MEXICO

SILVER CITY, N. M., June 13.—While he lay on a hospital cot with a bullet through his lung, federal and state officers today conducted an investigation into the shooting of J. D. Thompson, alleged bootlegger, who was wounded by officers as he was making a delivery of liquor to a government "under-cover" man.

Physicians said Thompson probably would recover.

Thompson was shot by Deputy Sheriff Thomas McSherry when he attempted to deliver a five-gallon bottle of whiskey to Simon Oropeza, the under-cover agent.

McSherry and W. L. Hill, prohibition officer, lay in wait for Thompson and when he appeared with the bottle demanded his surrender. According to the officers, Thompson, instead of surrendering, pulled a gun and fired twice at McSherry. The deputy then is said to have fired at Thompson, striking him in the top of the lung.

THREE PROHIBITION AGENTS WOUNDED

RICHMOND, Va., June 13.—(UP)—Three state prohibition enforcement officers were wounded last night while raiding a still in Chesterfield county, it was learned today when the wounded men were brought to a hospital here for treatment.

State Inspector R. S. Durrutte was shot in the chest, Officer George Johnson in the shoulder and leg, and B. Gregory in the leg.

Seven Negroes, alleged to have ambushed the raiders, were arrested and brought to Richmond.

NORRIS DEFIED BY COPLEY ON UTILITY CLAIMS

ties and now holds "no securities whatever in public utilities."

"Senator Norris has been entirely misinformed on this matter and it is apparent from his comments that he regards me as being convicted, but I would like to offer this challenge through you to him. I am under oath."

"If what I have told you here is true, you should give me an exoneration and a prompt one, to minimize as far as possible the damage which has been done to me, which never can be repaired."

Challenges Morris

"I would like to challenge Senator Norris to repeat on the streets as facts the things which he has said in the senate, branding them as rumors, it is true, but nevertheless carrying the stigma. If he will state this outside of the privileged chamber of the senate, I will bring him promptly before a court of justice."

"I want to call the attention of the people of the country that a man publishing rumors in the U. S. senate can do a tremendous amount of harm, covered by the privilege of the senate, and at the same time hiding the names of those whose rumors he quotes under senatorial privileges."

Telling the commission that he is forwarding a copy of his statement to Norris, Copley said, "I dare you or him to indict me," and added:

"I will then have a chance before a federal court of justice to have this matter settled for once and all time. This charge was started against me by a competing newspaper in Springfield, Ill."

No Connection With Insult

"I am not impugning the motive of Senator Norris, nor am I charging that he is not actuated by the highest motives. There may be some general basis for his claims that there is a so-called power trust. Of this I know absolutely nothing for the reason that I have not been in accord with and I am not acquainted with any man, or men, who are interested in the power business in a large way with exception of Mr. Insull, (Illinois utility magnate) and I have shown there has been absolutely no connection of any nature between him and me."

On the stand, Copley repeated his denial of Norris' charges. He admitted under questioning that when the charges first were made in the spring of 1928 he then owned $7,470,600 of utility stocks.

In response to other questions, Copley said all his wealth originated from utilities properties, "beginning in 1889."

Asked about his attitude on the general subject of public ownership of utility projects, Copley said he was a staunch advocate of Boulder dam "with or without power."

He said his papers have not taken any general stand on government ownership and added he was certain they have never made a policy of opposing government operation of utility properties.

Although declaring he owns no utilities stock of his own, Copley testified he has in his name $1,250,000 of utility shares as trustee for his wife, his sister, and W. W. Tracy, a friend.

Judge Robert E. Healy, chief commission counsel, concluding his examination of Copley, asked whether he cared to make any statement regarding his testimony, and Copley replied:

"I have never had any relations with any utilities excepting the Western United group in Illinois. I have never had any conversations with any utility man about my newspaper purchases. No utility company owns any stock in my papers and I don't believe any utility man owns a single dollar in any of my papers."

FRENCH AVIATORS HOP OFF FOR PARIS

They said they probably never would attempt another takeoff in the Green Flash for Rome.

RUMOR BOY STOWAWAY ON YELLOW BIRD

OLD ORCHARD, Me., June 13.—(UP)—After the Yellow Bird had taken off on its proposed flight to Paris today, reports spread that an 18-year-old stowaway was aboard the craft. It was not immediately possible to confirm the rumor.

Two Portland youths, Robert Drew and Raymond LaPointe, said that their chum, Alexander Jordan, of Portland, had secreted himself in the Yellow Bird's cabin and had not been discovered before the takeoff.

Persons connected with the flight doubted the rumor, however, pointing out that Lott sits in the main cabin and that it would be almost impossible for anyone to conceal himself in any part of the craft.

FOG PREVAILS OVER NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N. S., June 13.—(UP)—A heavy fog prevailed over the southern tip of Nova Scotia this afternoon, the government wireless station in Yarmouth reported. It seemed unlikely that the Yellow Bird could be seen if it passed over Cape Sable.

vate property" which cannot be included in the total of water to be divided.

2.—Insurance of sufficient water for California to make feasible the building of the All-American canal.

3.—Insurance of adequate water for the California coastal cities, including Los Angeles.

Although the commissioners, prior to Donovan's announcement of a new proposal, were doubtful about reaching a settlement in Washington, it was agreed that the cordial has been established which will pave the way for later accord.

"We have abandoned the fashioned business rule of the other fellow before you and are trying to treat pathetically the various points of each state," Chairman J. Bacon, of California, said.

Commissioner John M. R. Arizona, told the United Producers, in their private sessions, had abandoned an attempt to apportion the lower basins in acre-feet. Percentage proportions have provided a basis of discussion, he said.

The formula of Commissioner George W. Malone has provided a basis of settlement according to Ross.

Malicious Propaganda

No amount of malicious propaganda, an insult to public intelligence and good faith, can sway public belief in this fact: Lucky Strike is a blend of choice tobaccos whose toasted flavor thrills the taste, whose toasting process eliminates impurities, and, as 20,679* physicians testify, makes Luckies less irritating. Toasting elevates Lucky Strike to a plane of quality which no other cigarette can approach. The constant care of experts assures the quality of Luckies. Its choice by millions proves its superiority and is the truthful answer to selfish claims.

MILLER STORM CENTER IN L. A. CHARITY CASE

R. R. Miller, former probation officer of Orange county, again is the center of a storm in the charities department of Los Angeles county. Miller, who has been acting as superintendent of county welfare, and Emily M. Wooley, chief case supervisors, were dismissed summarily by action of the board of supervisors, in executive session Monday, abolishing the positions they held. W. H. Holland, superintendent of charities, asserted, according to quotations by Los Angeles papers, that he "spent two-thirds of his time answering criticisms against Miller and Miss Wooley," and Supervisor Shaw, who made the motion that resulted in abolishment of the offices, declared that the county charities department was costing too much money. Investigations by the Municipal League of Los Angeles resulted in announcement today by that organization that dismissal of the two employees was due to the fact that they had opposed doles to political workers in the guise of charity. Holland had instanced a dozen cases which he asserted Miller and Miss Wooley had handled unsatisfactorily. According to John Stevens, investigator for the league, who investigated the specified cases, Miller and Miss Wooley were justified in denying county aid because the applicants were political camp followers or had refused to work. Approximately a year ago an attempt was made to oust Miller from his position by the filing of charges that he was incompetent.

RAGAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FOREST GROUP

John Ragan, Villa Park, was re-elected president of the Forest Protective association of the Orange County Farm bureau at a meeting of the board of directors held yesterday noon at Orange. Norman M. Blaney, executive secretary of the farm bureau, was re-elected secretary of the association. The group discussed the recent suggestion by Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, that a decision be made regarding additional fire fighting tools and their most advantageous location. It was decided to arrange a later conference with the board of supervisors. The effectiveness of the forest protective organization was demonstrated yesterday when the lookout at Santiago peak reported by telephone to Willard Smith that there was a small fire near the end of the Pacific Electric railway tracks in the vicinity of Yorba Linda. Willard relayed the message to the farm bureau here and within one-half hour from the discovery of the fire, six crew leaders, a deputy sheriff and a fire engine were on the spot.

Water Company's Directors Back Control Project

Directors of the Villa Park Mutual Water company, a concern serving part of the region which recently voted to tax itself $150 an acre for water conservation on the Santiago creek, today had given their unqualified endorsement to the Orange county flood control program. Action of the directors was reported by F. H. Collins, secretary. The Villa Park Mutual Water company territory includes the district served by the Serrano Irrigation company and also 250 acres in the Cerro Villa tract.

SOUTHLAND CHURCH HISTORY IS TOLD

ORANGE, June 13.—The early history of the Christian church in Southern California was traced in a talk given by the Rev. F. T. Porter, of Los Angeles, at the First Christian church last night. The Rev. Mr. Porter, who is a former pastor of the First Christian church in Santa Ana, is the secretary of missionary work conducted by the Christian churches in Southern California. The first church to be founded in this part of the state was the one established in 1877 at Downey, the speaker said. The church at Orange was organized in 1883, several others in nearby communities coming into existence at about the same time.

WOMAN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL AFTER BATTLE

A word battle between Mrs. Manuela Laguna, 825 Logan street, and Mrs. Raymond Artez, wound up in a brick throwing contest and call for the police at the Logan street address at 9:30 o'clock last night, according to the report of Officer Harry Fink, who responded. Fink referred the parties to the office of the district attorney for any action they wished to file. Ten minutes after Fink returned to headquarters another call came in from the same address, and investigation by the officer revealed that Mrs. Laguna was suffering from convulsions, resulting from the excitement of the battle. At the request of a physician, Fink took the woman to the county hospital, where this morning she was reported greatly improved. The report filed by Officer Fink stated that the participants of the brick heaving affair were not injured otherwise.

CRIME MESSAGE DELIVERED BY HERMAN ZABEL

A straight from the shoulder message on crime, criminals and law enforcement was delivered to the civic leaders of Fullerton at the Rotary club meeting yesterday by Herman Zabel, deputy sheriff, and head of the Orange county bureau of identification. Zabel asserted that there is one person out of every 158 of the population of California, who is an inmate of some state institution, kept by the tax payers, and that the annual cost to the people of the state would run over $145,000,000.

The population of the 14 state institutions such as San Quentin, Folsom, reform schools and hospitals, was actually 23,665 on April 1, this year, Zabel asserted, and to this figure he added an estimated 10,000 for inmates of county and city jails and institutions that are supported by the tax payers.
The staggering total of the cost of crime in the state was reached by using figures calculated by statisticians who have studied the situation and is divided into three divisions. Approximately $2,500,000 is the annual bill for housing, feeding and clothing the inmates.
But it costs some $93,000,000 to operate the machinery of apprehension and prosecution, and there is another item of $50,000,000 which it is said the people of the state of California lose yearly through the activities of the criminal element, according to the figures Zabel presented to the Rotarians and their guests.

"There is a total criminal population in the state of California of close to 15,000, for there are more than 7500 inmates of the institutions solely for criminals, and there is one criminal on the outside for every one that forces of the law are able to imprison," he said. "Crime is a vastly more serious and costly item than many think."

"Criminologists have divided the criminal element into five classes.
First, the born criminal; second,
the insane criminal; third, the occasional criminal; fourth, the habitual criminal; and fifth, the criminal by passion. Civilization's greatest problem lies in the classes embracing the born, insane and habitual criminals. No one seems to know just what should be done with them. Capital punishment, life imprisonment, sterilization and numerous other "cure-alls" are enforced or advocated, but the problem is still with us. The other two classes, the occasional criminal and the criminal through passion, are usually amenable to reform, are usually sorry for the crimes they have committed, and in the majority of cases can be turned into respectable, law-abiding citizens.

Zabel asserted that there were some remedies he would like call to the attention of his auditors, which he felt would go far in solving the problem of the situation regard the other three classes. His program included early apprehension, speedy trial, certain punishment, sterilization, work for the criminals after apprehension, suffering upon release and the consolidation of all law enforcement agencies in counties.

"There are several Do's and Don'ts that I should like to suggest be observed by the general public, which will go far in helping the forces of law and order in their battle with the criminal element. DO remember that your officers are your peace time soldiers. They are the ones who make it possible for you to live in security and enjoy the benefits of your labor. DO take an interest in public affairs and especially in your police department.
Give them the benefit of your honest advice and commendation for efficient service. DO obey traffic laws and drive carefully.

"DON'T expect quick response and super-service from your officers if you fail to provide proper and up to date equipment. A workman is as efficient as his tools. DON'T expect loyalty from your officers if you fail to provide for their care if totally disabled while on duty, or make no provision for their old age after a life of service to the public.
DON'T expect the service of experts for the pay of a day laborer.
DON'T expect 100 per cent law enforcement if you treat your officers with scorn or indifference.
A servant reflects his master's attitude. DON'T hire inexperienced men and expect them to protect your life and property. You would not hire a plumber to treat you for diabetes. And above all DON'T mix law enforcement with politics.
A police department burdened with politics will fail, at the expense of the tax payers."

FIREMEN LIKED THAT

BAYONNE, N. J., June 11.—Edward Farrell, a delirium patient at Bayonne hospital, was responsible for a sleepless night for firemen here recently. He wandered about and pulled a fire alarm, sounding the warning at fire headquarters and repeating it over the local circuit. Six companies were dispatched to the scene of the false alarm.

KEPT THE BOYS AWAY

VIENNA, June 11.—A typist here recently sued her employer claiming that the confining work had ruined her eyes, causing her to wear glasses and for that reason caused her to miss several chances at matrimony. The employer countered with the remark that the glasses had improved her looks and had made her "interesting."
The girl lost the suit.

Too Much Or Too Little—

Death and Destruction Come With Floods
Loss of Crops Follows Series of Dry Years

This picture was taken in 1916 when river channel was far too small to carry flood. There was hardly a half-mile space from Olive to Talbert in which the river did not tear its way out of the channel and across orchards and farms. This picture was taken on the Pacific Electric between the Santa Ana river and Garden Grove.

Too Much Or Too Little—

By a program of construction of dams, Orange county's public officials propose to iron out the
"too much" years so that there will be more water in the "too little" years.

Flood waters instead of being a menace, doing tremendous damage to property, wiping away assessed valuation, will be saved for irrigation and domestic use.

Safety assured by America's greatest reservoir engineers

The best engineering skill available was used in making the plans.

These engineers have built 80 dams and were consulted in relation to 70 other dams, and NOT ONE EVER FAILED.

Conditions are good for proper,
sound construction.

Just to keep dollars in a taxpayer's pocket would you bow to menace?

This question is asked in all fairness.

We are convinced that the center of opposition is due to no other cause than a constitutional dislike of paying taxes.

The question before us is greater and far more important than any man's taxes. It concerns water—WATER—WATER for you and me.

We are Fighting for SAFETY and WATER and Assessed Valuation

S. A. BREAKFAST CLUB CHANGES MEETING TIME

With the early hour of meeting apparently effecting the attendance, the Santa Ana Breakfast club this morning again changed to the 7:30 o'clock hour for meetings in the future. The club originally met at 7 o'clock, then changed in April to 7:30 o'clock for six weeks, and again reverted to the early hour. It was pointed out by President Guy Gilbert this morning that 7 o'clock is a little early for many men who would like to attend the meetings.

Announcement was made that women will be guests at the club meeting two weeks from today. Eugene Kahen will be program chairman and he said he is arranging an elaborate program. Breakfast will be served on the lawn at St. Ann's Inn.

Informal discussion of the date for the club's annual aeronautical breakfast failed in the development of a definite date for the event. It had been suggested that the breakfast be held on Labor day, the first Monday in September but it was pointed out that the Orange county fair will be in progress on that day. Because of this fact, and the expressed belief that it would be in opportune to hold the affair on a holiday, it was decided to defer selection of the date to a later meeting.

As president of the Eddie Martin Pilots' association, Linn R. Crawford extended an invitation to members and the general public to take advantage of an opportunity at the Martin airport Wednesday for an air ride at half price. Crawford said the association had taken over the field for the day and had inaugurated the low price in order to promote aviation here.

E. S. Morrow was program chairman this morning, and he introduced Art Cannon, organist at the new theater in Orange, and Carl Fletcher, star on the Orpheum circuit, as entertainers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher are here from New York for a sojourn of a few weeks and are living temporarily at 1920 Bush street. Mrs. Fletcher, who also is a star on the Orpheum circuit, is a sister of Mrs. Roy Browning of this city. He entertained with vocal numbers. Cannon rendered a number of piano selections.

Jack Walsh, of the El Rodeo Riding club, was present and announced that the club is giving a dance at I. O. O. F. hall, Fullerton, Friday night, June 21.

LIONS AT PARK

You use less water in cooking because of the range.

It's more dependable than any maid—always on the job. I put dinner in the oven and do my garden work, too. The range excels in oven dinners—bake own bread and cakes.

What I like best is the oven control as I can put my dinner in the oven, set my vent and clock, then worry no more about it until time to eat.

Never had trouble nor has it been out of order. I think I give a range a fair test as have baked biscuit each morning since I had it. Also bake my own bread, pies, and cakes. (Range 4 1/2 years old.)

I am glad that I have to watch the clock and stay in the kitchen as much.

Kitchen work is easier because the fuel is always there. I believe the range is as recommended by the salesman.

Your Neighbor . . . Makes these Comments on her Electric Range . . .

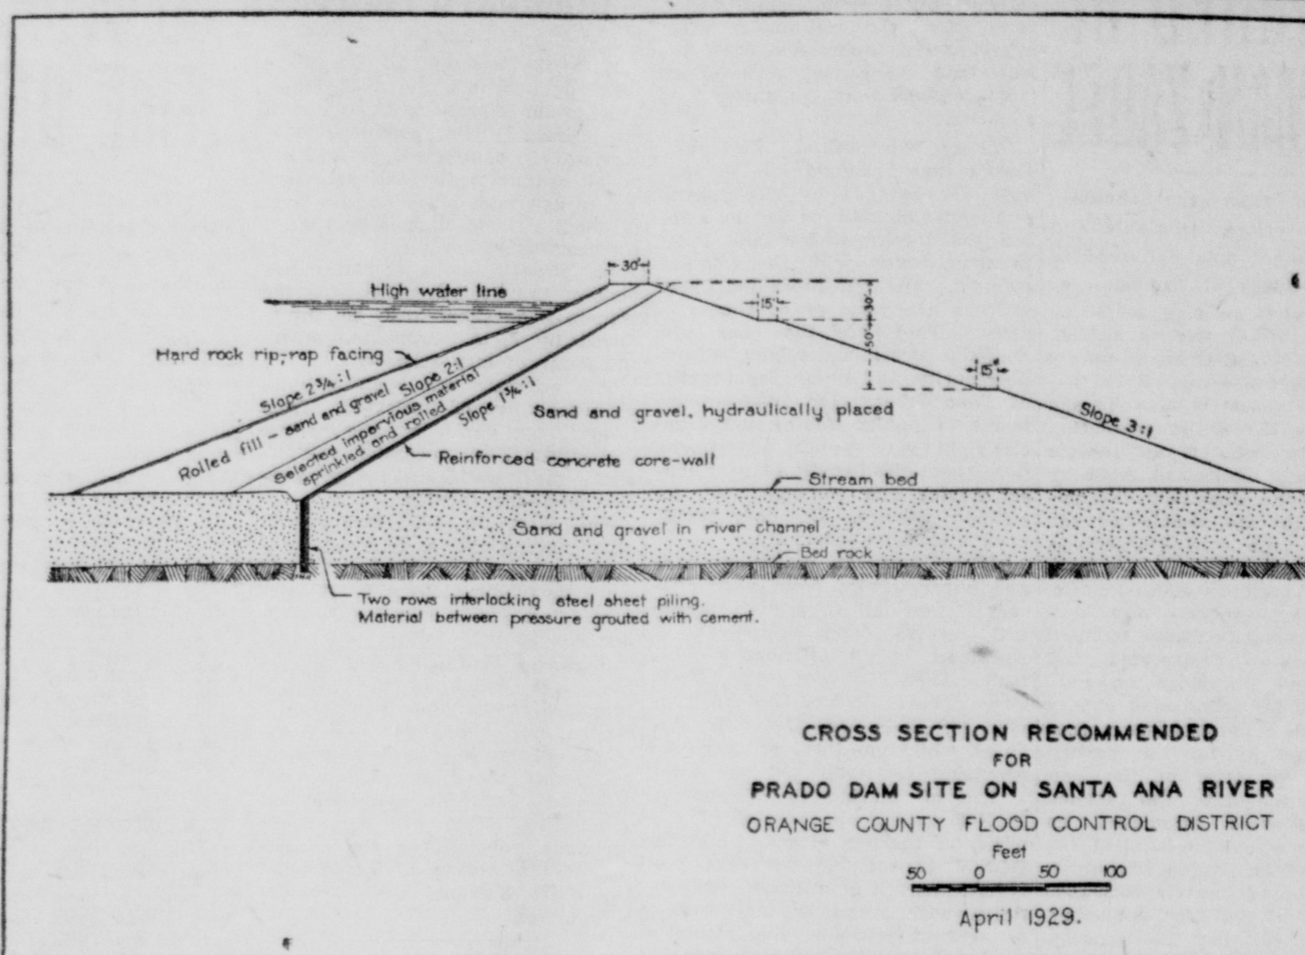

IN ORDER to learn more about the user's viewpoint on Electric Cooking, we sent out a questionnaire to the many thousands of women who do their cooking electrically. The above comments are an indication of how they feel about their electric ranges.

We know you would feel the same way if you had an electric range in your home. Right now we are showing the newest models in our salesrooms and we will gladly tell you how easy it is for you to buy an electric range and enjoy it while you pay for it out of your monthly budget. ## PROPOSED DAM IN SANTA ANA CANYON

This is a cross-section of the proposed Santa Ana canyon dam. This plan has been approved by engineers as giving an absolutely safe dam. Across the base the dam will measure 950 feet. A Santa Ana city block is 250 feet between streets.

CROSS SECTION RECOMMENDED FOR PRADO DAM SITE ON SANTA ANA RIVER ORANGE COUNTY FLOOD CONTROL DISTRICT

Declares Safety In Dam Assured

Editor Register:

Safety above all things is assured in the construction of the dam that is proposed shall be built across the Santa Ana river under Orange county's flood control project.

This assurance is given by Chief Engineer Paul Bailey, by the three nationally known consulting engineers and by the committee of Orange county engineers who have given professional study to the plans.

"Bailey and the three consulting engineers," said W. C. Jerome, chairman of the citizens committee, "have themselves built or helped to build 30 dams, and have been called in as consulting engineers to pass on plans for 70 other dams. Not one ever failed. Engineering brains and experience stand squarely back of these plans." It would be called the lower Prado dam, but no observer would recognize it as a man-made barrier, say engineers with reference to the proposed earthen structure on the Santa Ana river, where the county flood control project centers.

With its tremendous base thickness—950 feet—and its gently sloping surface, the dam would blend into the natural landscape, disguising the fact that it was impounding a lake, nine miles in length, that meant security and prosperity for the county.

The great body of water that would accumulate behind the lower Prado dam in flood time, it is pointed out, represents the conversion of a menace into an asset, which is the two sided purpose of the project.

That the lake would be easily and safely checked by the dam is assured beyond any question, according to the engineers. The dam could hold a flood twice as great as that of 1916, the largest on record. It would probably never be filled to its capacity, say the engineers, but there it would stand staunch safeguard against the two evils that now hold their sinister threat above the future of the "richest little county in the world."

Situated on what the consulting geologist termed the safest site in the canyon, the dam would be constructed of earth and gravel for the most part, with protective features consisting of a sloping concrete core wall on the upstream face, connecting with a cut-off wall extending down to bedrock. This composed of two rows of interlocking steel sheet piling between which would be a fill shot through with cement. Covering the concrete core wall of the dam, would be a layer of compacted impervious material, covered in turn by another layer of earth and gravel, for protection. The up-stream surface would be paved with hard rock, to resist wave action.

The height of the proposed dam, 155 feet, would not be realized because of its immense thickness, 950 feet at the base, it is said. Its storage capacity would be 190,000 acre feet of water. The ordinary city block in Santa Ana from street to street is 250 feet.

The cost of the dam, $11,802,300, represents the most economical structure of adequate and safe proportions that could be built, all factors considered, it has been found. (Signed)

Lions Of Garden Grove Hear Talks On Water Project

GARDEN GROVE, June 13.—Paul Bailey, flood control district engineer, and W. C. Jerome, county auditor, spoke on the flood control and water conservation project to be voted on June 25, at the Lions Luncheon Wednesday.

Bailey talked on the engineering side of the question and Mr. Jerome on the financial side.

The next meeting of the Lions club will be held at the Orange county health camp in the evening at 7 o'clock, when dinner will be served.

Ladies' night will be observed and installation of officers on June 26.

DAWN of another Fortune-making BOOM in OIL!

ON a hill overlooking Hawthorne, on a site selected by one of the most able geologists in Southern California, Well No. 1 of the Para-Cal Oil Corporation is sinking a drill bit into the bowels of the earth. Will this well strike the rich oil reservoir said to underlie this particular spot? Will the amazing history of Signal Hill and Santa Springs be repeated? Are we soon to see another fortune-making boom in oil? No one can answer these questions exactly. But scientific surveys of our structure point to vast quantities of oil at a depth of about 5,200 feet. The authority for this remarkable prediction is the eminent geologist, Franklin H. Hamilton, credited with discovering Signal Hill. Use conservative in his statements, he speaks in glowing terms about the rare possibilities of Para-Cal Well No. 1. "I believe," said Mr. Hamilton, "that the oil found in this particular well will make many people wealthy." He stated that the geological structure and mineral conditions are similar to those found in the Signal Hill field! And Signal Hill has produced more than $400,000,000 in oil wealth, and is still going strong! NOW is the time to get into this venture . . . before big production! We sincerely believe that our proposition, backed by facts, will appeal to anyone with money to invest. This is your chance. You owe it to yourself and to the dependent upon you to participate with other seeing men and women courage in what is so recently regarded as a "shot." It is a chance to make your idle dollars multiply for you! As a first step send for the booklet, we give you all the details.

PREDICTIONS FOR THE FUTURE OF SANTA ANA

LEAD WHAT VARIOUS WELL KNOWN REAL ESTATE MEN SAY IN REGARD TO THE FUTURE OF THIS PROSPEROUS COMMUNITY

V. B. MARTIN—

"What Santa Ana needs to become the most desirable residential city in the United States, is the kind of co-operation its citizenship has shown in voting the School Bonds. Let's do team-work and let the majority rule."

BERRY & McKEE—

"The number of calls we have for rentals, inquiry for different classes of property and the many big propositions coming up at this particular time of the year; undoubtedly is a sure barometer of our near future business prospects."

HERB ALLEMAN—

EC. SANTA ANA REALTY BOARD—
"In ten years' time—by 1939—Santa Ana will be a city of 75,000. The extremely resourceful surrounding country with our harbor prospects and the exceptionally favorable conditions for perfect airports will make it so."

ALISBURY & AUBREY—

"We predict, in fact we know, after watching this city for thirty years, Santa Ana is the WHITE SPOT of California. With the Plate Glass company here and several other large projects coming, Santa Ana should go over the 100,000 mark in from five to seven years."

ISA HOFFMAN—

RESIDENT SANTA ANA REALTY BOARD—
"Santa Ana will continue to grow on account of its location and proximity to Los Angeles. With a number of projects now entering the city such as the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company, and with a half million new schools to be built, a post office building assured, and the wonderful publicity obtained through the County publicity bureau, a number of people are heading for one of the most desirable districts in the Southland."

DWIN A. BAIRD—

"Conditions and values here should improve because of the rich agricultural surroundings, the central location of Santa Ana and its proximity to the larger cities of Southern California, to the mountains, and to the sea. The coming industries are among the favorable factors for growth; as are also our splendid schools; harmonious church, business, and fraternal organizations."

C. POPE—

VICE PRESIDENT CALIFORNIA REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION—
"Santa Ana will continue to grow because it is built substantially; because it is the center of health, wealth, prosperity and the best climate in the state; because beaches and mountain resorts are nearby; because people are not afraid to vote bonds for better schools."

ARNER REALTY CO.—

"We feel that business conditions in the city are and will be much better than they have been for many years. People feel confident the Southland will continue to go ahead and are consequently easier to deal with. The fact that there is a great demand for homes which are extremely difficult to find tends to show that people prefer Santa Ana to any other city or locality."

EARL MOCK—

"Santa Ana will grow. I have been in Orange County for 17 years, have studied conditions thoroughly, and am sold on this city and its people. Plenty of hard work will produce a metropolis in the near future."

LARRY H. BALL—

"What is finer than to be a part of the building of an ideal city, and collectively we can make Santa Ana the envy of them all as we have everything nature has to offer to support us. The passing of our school bonds shows the public interest in a better city for all. Note the development over the past ten years. Who can visualize the future, with the millions to be spent on our building and street program to start at once?"

RAY GOODCELL—

"Our fast developing coast line, incoming industries, water conservation plan, and large citrus crop predict for Orange County a substantial and normal growth, a growth that the stranger to California might deem phenomenal."

LARRIS BROS.—

"We have known Santa Ana more than 50 years, and have seen marvelous developments. Bigger ones coming. Will see citrus and avocados in every valley; Oriental commerce through Newport Harbor; industries in every strategic location. An educational center, a church community, and a big home city."

KNOX & STOUT—

"In our 15 years experience in Santa Ana we have never seen better immediate future prospects. Buying real estate now is a sure, safe investment. To prove this, think back 8 or 10 years."

I. W. GILL—

"With the industries that are now located here, and the many others that are coming, I think that within the next ten years Santa Ana will be built to the Beach."

PROGRAM FOR FLAG DAY IN S. A. OUTLINED

The program for Flag day sponsored jointly in Santa Ana by the American Legion and lodge 794, Elks, was announced today by Lester Steinkopf, of the Legion, and G. P. Campbell, of the Elks club, general chairmen for the event. The program is scheduled for Birch park Friday night. A parade, presentation of flags, band and glee club music, tribute to the flag and stirring addresses are important phases of the event arranged by the local organizations.

Patriotic and civic goddess participating in the program are to assemble at the Elks club building on North Sycamore at 7:30 o'clock, for the parade to the park, led by the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps. A band concert consisting of four numbers preceding the formal program will be presented by the Santa Ana Municipal band under the direction of D. C. Clafoni, commencing at 7:30 o'clock in the park. The band will play "The American Soldier," march by Bugliene, "Light Cavalry," overture by Suppe, "Valse Militaire," by E. Waldfenkel and "American Patrol," by F. W. Meachem.

The presentation of flags and banners will then be made by patriotic organizations, public bodies and service clubs, assisted by the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps. The band will play "The Star Spangled Banner," after which the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the benediction.

The American Legion Auxiliary Glee club will sing "Recessional," led by its director, Cecile Fross Willis. Milburn G. Harvey, local attorney, will give "The Tribute to the Flag," assisted by the auxiliary glee club and the Santa Ana band. The glee club will then give two numbers, "Old Glory Goes Marching On" and "Christ in Flanders," led by Cecile Fross Willis.

A patriotic address in keeping with the occasion will be delivered by Col. M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana. The band, directed by D. C. Clafoni, will play "America," to be followed by the bugle and drum corps giving taps. The impressive service will close with the benediction by the Rev. Mr. McFarland.

Legion officials are staging a campaign for the showing of flags all over the city by business houses and residents for a fitting decoration.

NOW, NOW, PROF.

GEORGETOWN, Tex., June 10.—The conspiring co-ed who uses her attractions to influence male grades has no place at Southwestern University. Professors at the school claim that they are immune to such advances. "All our co-eds are beautiful, so no one has a better chance than others," one professor is said to have remarked.

It will positively hold a ruptured inguinal (Groin) or Scrotal rupture with perfect ease and comfort. Results are most phenomenal. Not one failure reported. Mr. Lowe treats every case personally and guarantees satisfaction or money refunded. There are no stiff bands to cut and pinch, no hard "plug-like" pads to "rouge" or "dig in," no unyielding belt to chafe or bind, no strapping of the body in "vice-like" fashion, no pads to rest over the kidneys, there is no inconvenience in wearing, no misrepresentation, in order to sell and get complete satisfaction. The most skilful people solicited.

Don't wear large, bunglesome pads that are torturing and unsanitary. "UNCLE GEORGE'S" COMMON SENSE APPLIANCE is not sold over a drugstore counter or by ordinary truss dealers, but can only be obtained from the inventor, who will give personal service free of charge.

George W. Lowe, inventor, patentee and sole owner, will be at the Santa Ana Hotel Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 13, 14 and 15. Hours—10 A. M. to 7 P. M.—Adv.

BEFORE THE MIKE

It may be harsh to say that commercialism is ruining radio programs in this country. But at least it's doing a lot to disgust radio fans. A recent instance was the mad scramble to broadcast the flight of the Graf Zeppelin through the courtesy of someone. It won't be long before some advertiser lines up exclusive rights for the broadcast of the next presidential inauguration.

Ruffner

There is one radio announcer who never was awed by appearing before a microphone. Rather, the "mike" was awed by his appearance before it. He is Edmund B. Ruffner, one of the tallest radio luminaries in the industry. He is six feet six inches tall and they call him "Tiny" for "short." He has just joined the Purson Radio Program Corporation. "Tiny" formerly was an announcer for the NBC system.

New series on the air: Skipper Brown, WGY, Schenectady, Saturdays at 7:30 eastern time. The Laundry Lassies, WHK, Cleveland, Sundays at 9:30 eastern time. Radiodramas, KNX, Hollywood, Thursdays at 7:00 Pacific time. The Stagecoachers, KOA, Denver, Fridays at 10:30 mountain time. "Zandra, the Man Who Sees Beyond," ABC system, Seattle, Saturdays at 9:00 Pacific time. "Day Line Sketches," WOR, Newark, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 11:30 eastern time. The Little Theater of Radio, WOR, Newark, Saturdays at 9:00 eastern time.

Collegiate is what they call Richard Macaulay, announcer at WTMJ, Milwaukee. He is probably one of the youngest announcers in the "profession," having seen but 19 birthdays. He is earning his way through Marquette University by handling WTMJ's microphone. His radio experience prior to his signing up with the Milwaukee Journal station was in the capacity of head announcer for WHAD, the Marquette University station.

HOTEL WINS SUIT OVER COPYRIGHT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 13.—In a suit filed here by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers against the Le Salle Hotel of this city, Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis upheld the right of the hotel to receive and transmit to guest rooms copyright music broadcast by radio stations. The decision is said to be the first of its kind.

Judge Otis held that in receiving the radio programs and transmitting them to the rooms the hotel owners did not "perform" the compositions, but merely "provided the means" for hearing the music.

The decision differentiated between radio programs and the playing of phonograph records and awarded the plaintiffs $250 damages for alleged playing of a record by the hotel. The playing of a record was held to be a "performance," as the music was permanently recorded and the rendition was made at a time that suited the hotel's purpose and convenience.

Predicts Big Year For Radio Men

CHICAGO, June 13.—This year will be a bumper one for radio men, is the prediction of Major Herbert H. Frost, president of the Radio Manufacturers' association. He estimates that the volume of radio business which may be expected to roll up during the season will exceed $800,000,000 or more, possibly just falling short of a billion dollars. Bond P. Geddes, executive vice president, and M. F. Flanagan, executive secretary, have figured that a market for sales is offered in 36,000,000 homes, plus a replacement market of 8,000,000 sets.

RCA WILL LIGHT TOWERS TO AID NIGHT AVIATION

NEW YORK CITY, June 13.—A plan for lighting the radio station in New Brunswick, N. J., for the protection of aviators using Hadley field has just been announced by the Radio Corporation of America and is an example of voluntary co-operation between the two great new fields of radio and aviation.

Col. Mantion Davis, vice president and general attorney for the Radio Corporation, who has been in conference in Washington with W. P. McCracken, assistant secretary for aeronautics of the department of commerce, on the best method of lighting the wireless towers and the antenna at the New Brunswick station, said the Radio Corporation eventually would light all of its stations on the highways of the air for the double purpose of giving aviators protection from the slender steel masts at night and providing additional landmarks by which they can chart their courses.

Various lighting systems for the New Brunswick station have been suggested and considered by the Radio Corporation and the details of the plans are being discussed with Secretary McCracken by Colonel Davis.

Because of its proximity to Hadley field, which for the last several years has been the eastern terminus of the transcontinental United States airmail and one of the most important aviation fields in the east, the RCA wireless towers at New Brunswick have been considered a psychological hazard by aviators at night and in periods of low visibility. Twelve slender steel masts rise 400 feet in the air supported by guy wires covering a considerable area of ground. No aviator has run afoul of the towers or wires, but they have been regarded as a serious mental hazard in night flying. The Radio Corporation has been studying the situation for some time and its engineers have submitted several reports on various lighting systems.

Recently the department of commerce entered into correspondence with the Radio Corporation in an effort to expedite the matter of lighting its stations. It generally is conceded that no legal obligation devolves upon the Radio Corporation of America to provide the lights, but the Radio Corporation decided to undertake the job and at its own expense.

"Radio and aviation are making such rapid strides and touching so many phases of American life," Colonel Davis said in commenting on the decision, "that the usual processes of law and governmental regulation have been unable to keep pace. Frequently we have leaped ahead to a recognized need not yet covered by a law, as in this case. These two new fields have much in common and it is entirely fitting that the radio industry should do all in its power to assist and co-operate in the advancement of aviation."

Restrictions On Chain Programs Will Be Lifted

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The order of the federal radio commission, prohibiting stations, 200 miles or less apart, from broadcasting the same chain program, which rule was never put into effect, is due to be abrogated entirely. It was meant to apply only to stations in cleared channels, but the effective date was advanced three times, due to serious objections from stations and some listeners.

WOI, Iowa State College's Outlet, Offers Service Without Revenue

AMES, Ia., June 13.—With not a cent of revenue and limited even further by small appropriations radio station WOI continues to furnish citizens of Iowa and surrounding country with as good a broadcasting service as any more fortunate station.

WOI is the broadcasting station of Iowa State college here, and like the college is owned and controlled by the state. "WOI is primarily a service station; that is, its primary purpose is to be of service to Iowa people," says W. L. Griffith, director. "Radio really is another form of extension work," he adds. "In addition to providing entertainment WOI attempts to provide information to persons who are not able to attend college—especially the older individuals. Talks are given by college men and women and other authorities.

No Advertising Allowed

"We have no revenue other than state appropriations and since this is so we are not allowed to sell space to advertisers. WOI, like other college stations, is handicapped by lack of money to hire talent. However, we have fine musical programs furnished by the college music department or outside organizations.

"The State Teachers' Association for the past two years has been sponsoring a monthly program. Drake University Conservatory of Music, Des Moines, and the Simpson Conservatory of Music at Indianola also give frequent programs. Nearby high schools often give programs for which they practice weeks ahead of time."

The success of the station has been due in no small degree to A. G. (Andy) Woolfries, announcer, who has been with WOI since it went on the air in April, 1922. Andy is reputed to be one of the best announcers in the middle west.

WOI is a daylight station, sharing its time with KFEQ, St. Joseph, Mo. It has developed into a station with a transmitting power of 5000 watts, although it is allowed to use only 2500 at the present time. The transmitter was built by college men and students of the electrical engineering department from pieces bought from radio supply companies. Licensed

NBC IN ACCORD WITH MOVE TO IMPROVE RADIO

NEW YORK CITY, June 13.—"The National Broadcasting company and associated radio stations are heartily in accord with the stand taken by the leading radio organizations against the abuse of commercial credits in broadcast programs," G. F. McClelland, executive vice president and general manager of the National Broadcasting company, said today in a statement on the expressed disapproval against excessive use of commercial credits in broadcasting.

"The NBC always has been on record as favoring these principles and has been a leader in holding to the highest ethics of both broadcasting and advertising. We will co-operate in every way in the effort to combat any abuse of the air as a medium of advertising and hope by example to demonstrate that good taste is of first importance in the presentation of a radio program by a national advertiser.

"Surveys, records and the hundreds of thousands of letters received by the NBC all indicate that abuse of good taste in radio advertising works against the sponsor of the program. We consider the public the final arbiter of what is and what is not acceptable in sponsored programs and we expect to be governed by the will of the vast audience of radio listeners.

"Our own experience is that the broadcast program, when capably produced and done according to the highest standards of showmanship, speaks better than mere adjectives of the organization or produce that is behind it."

SAYS WORLD WAVE PARLEY NECESSARY

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Lieutenant Commander T. A. M. Craven, naval radio specialist, before the senate committee on interstate commerce, recently predicted that it would be necessary soon to call an international conference to adjust the world radio situation, because the demands of nations for radio channels are conflicting. The naval officer testified in connection with the Communications bill for creating a federal communications commission with full jurisdiction wire and radio services.

Emphasizing that the number of channels in the spectrum is definitely limited, he said that "engineers are having some difficulty in finding out how to use the channels in the most effective manner." He recommended that the federal licensing authority should safeguard radio communication by, assigning particular blocks of channels to particular services. Stations of different character and function, he said, cannot operate effectively on the same or adjacent channels if the channels are to be employed to their fullest extent.

AGES FAST

Modern broadcasting equipment goes out of date rapidly. WENR, Chicago, one of the most up-to-date stations in the country, announces the expenditure of $100,000 to purchase recently developed apparatus.

NEW ONE ON AIR

One of the new "freak" instruments to be heard over the air is the "tubophone." It is used by Joe Green over the NBC system. It is made up of a series of hollow steel tubes arranged in chromatic scale.

POPULAR COLUMBIA ACTOR

BRADFORD BROWNE, OLD TIME MINSTREL'S SON, IS GENIUS OF COLUMBIA BROADCAST SYSTEM

NEW YORK, June 13.—"The next presentation will be introduced by Bradford Browne."

Many a radio fan, listening to the broadcast from a station on the Columbia system, has perked up his ears and sat up with eager expectation when that name was pronounced over the air. For it meant not only the signs of an interesting program, but the pleasure of listening to a clear, resonant and smooth-spoken voice over the air.

The announcement, the voice the very name seemed to betray something colorful about the man, Bradford Browne. And, to be sure, there is all of color and adventure and romance in him.

Bradford Browne is the son of an old-time minstrel—the end man in the show. Most of his relatives were musicians. So it was second nature for him, as a boy of 8, to pick up the first instrument he could find—it happened to be a banjo—and entertain his playmates with it.

The banjo led him to other instruments. He played the piano in his home, at North Adams, Mass., and he soon became "the life of the party" throughout the district.

Sees World First

But, like such geniuses, he sought other means for his life's occupation, only to revert finally to his musical and entertaining abilities. In all his young days he never studied music. He acquired it.

First, to get a "job," young Browne became a pin boy in a bowling alley. Wanderlust took him and he traveled about the country, remaining for a while in Washington, D. C., where he studied law at Georgetown university.

ORIENTAL PROGRAM OVER KHJ TONIGHT

A theme program of Oriental character will be presented by Van C. Newkirk between 7 and 7:30 p. m. over KHJ. The setting will be around the famous Taj Mahal, a marble mausoleum erected by a Mogul emperor in memory of his wife, and one of the show places of India. The orchestra and singers will be featured.

EARNING ITS KEEP

A radio set is being used more now than it was in early days, according to J. E. Smith, president of the National Radio Institute of Washington, D. C. "The average radio set is used from two to eight hours a day," he says, "with four hours as fair average."

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

A special government office disposing of its own budget will control all wireless broadcasting in France in the near future. Expenses will be met by a tax levy on receiving sets.

COOLING BY RADIO POPULAR PRACTICE NOW

Young man or woman would rather hard these days to be the early career of Abraham Lincoln by walking 14 miles a row a book and laying the foundation for a cultured mind out of a half-dozen volumes. The radio is making home education so easy today that any farmer boy may come in after the chores are done, comfortably settle himself in an easy chair and, by turning a button, feed his brain with the best the world has to offer. In almost any imaginable course of studies.

Following the trend of many of the eastern educational centers, the University of Southern California is now offering a radio course over station KEJK on 15 well selected topics so far announced, with full attendance

Application For Labor Federation Station Is Denied

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—The application made by the Chicago Federation of Labor for full time and 50,000 watts on a cleared channel for its station, WCFL, has been denied by the federal radio commission. The station's frequency is 770 kc. After the application was filed the commission notified the station that it was not satisfied that public interest, convenience, or necessity would be served by the grant, and the station was notified that it would be given a hearing on its application. Such hearing was held. The applicant was permitted to offer testimony to show that public interest would be served by the granting of the license requested.

Naturally, the air still being free to any radio owner, at least until the Wall Street consolidators have not quite succeeded in zoning it all out between themselves, the public at large may listen in with the enrolled students and get the fun out of it without obligation or expense.

One fine point comes up, however: the unfamiliar technical terms, foreign language words and such matter are not easy to take out of the air when your old console keeps sputtering, and fading, and guzzling along like a soup addict inhaling his favorite beverage. A clear, pure tone transmission is essential.

The radio itself must be completely silent and unreservedly subordinate its mechanism to the voice from the sides. This is what the radio engineers had especially in mind when the Temple radio was being designed, according to Bob Gerwing, Santa Ana dealer. The rapid advancement in radio science is well exemplified in this instrument, he claims, with the total absence of all interfering overtones, so annoying and confusing in the instruments of a few years ago.

DIRECTORS OF AIR CLUB

Present Day Characters Found of Interest to Young Listeners

CHICAGO, June 13.—Children of today are more interested in living personalities than they are in people who lived in the past. That's what Irma Glen and Everett Mitchell have found in conducting their "Air Juniors" club over WENR, Chicago, every afternoon at 5, central time.

The club was inaugurated in August, 1928. Since then the two conductors have experimented with all kinds of programs to determine which received the greater reaction from tiny fans.

Responses from children proved to Irma and Everett that children wanted better educational features, particularly about people living now; that riddles and contests were popular; that animal and Indian stories were favored; and that lives of great historical personalities drew their share of applause.

Children are frank in expressing their criticism, be it good or bad, and from this the two entertainers have modeled their program. It has taken much library research and much experimenting.

Movies by Radio!

"One of our first experiments was a radio moving picture of 'Huckleberry Finn,'" says Miss Glenn. "We told this story as though we were viewing it on a screen. We then gave a series of stories telling of the childhood of great musicians. It was during this experiment that we discovered from our letters that children today wanted better educational features, and particularly about people living now, such as Lindbergh and others."

"As a result we started a series of stories about children of today who have made their mark in the world, such as Jackie Coogan. Nature stories and poems by children's poets—Eugene Field, Longfellow and others—are popular."

"And riddle—it seems that all children are interested in riddles. We give the riddle one day and then answer it the next, but almost before our hour is up we get telephone calls telling us the answer."

Educational Contests

Contests conducted by the club have proven popular. A Santa Claus letter contest at Christmas time drew response from every state and parts of Canada. An encyclopedia contest, consisting of giving children a letter of the alphabet and asking them to look up the lives of the great men whose names began with the letter, also proved popular as well as educational.

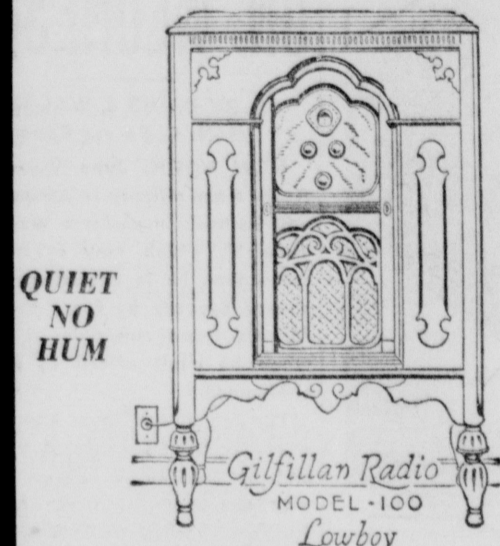

"We are most careful to see that every story or contest that we have leads to the betterment of children and has a moral," Miss Glen says.

Other contests proving educational was a puppet contest in which the story of "Pinocchio," wooden robot, was told, and children were asked to send in puppets of their own. Followed much carpentering by the audience and results crowded the studio with wooden figures.

A Memorial day contest brought a large number of essays to the studio.

When you read The Register you get the best service on local, county, state and national sports, the field being entirely covered by competent writers and well-trained staff correspondents.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

If Dempsey fights again he probably will be handled by Bill Duff. . . . And Duff is the fellow who was in Dempsey's corner when he fought Jack Sharkey. . . . And Duff is the fellow who shouted at the referee. . . . When Sharkey went down claiming a foul. . . . And O'Sullivan said later he didn't know who shouted at him. . . . Jim Mullen, the Chicago prize fight promoter, pulled a good line. . . . The revenue fellows got after him for a tax bill for 40 grand that had been standing for several years. . . . And Jim told them he thought he didn't have to pay any tax. . . . Because the show was a benefit for a political fund. . . . And the revenue fellows said, "Har, har!"

MAYBE THERE'S A PLOT

New York boxing writers have their own opinions about the withdrawal of Dempsey from a contracted partnership with the promoting firm of Humbert Fugazy and Ed Cole.

It was the firm of Dempsey, Fugazy and Cole that had the ambition to out-millinaire the 600 millionaires of Madison Square Garden and corner the big dough that might be made during the outdoor season.

Dempsey was said to have been given a retaining fee of $50,000 for the use of his name and his presence in the office of the firm. And in addition, it is understood, he was guaranteed a large split of all the profits that might have come to the firm.

LOOKED BAD AT FIRST

When Dempsey announced his retirement from the firm some of the boys in the racket thought he had taken an unfair cut on the firm and should have stuck with his partners.

Dempsey said the partners had assured him of a place in which to stage his fights and that all the good matches had been made and that his partners didn't have an arena in which to stage the bouts he had arranged.

MIGHT BE LACK OF SUGAR

Bill Carey, who succeeded Tex Rickard as the controlling head of the Garden, outsourced Fugazy when he signed an agreement with the owners of the Yankee stadium and the Polo grounds.

It must have been a matter of terms and when the Dempsey firm failed to get either the Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds, he might be entitled to the opinion that their firm didn't have as much money as the flock of Garden millionaires.

JACK MAY FIGHT AGAIN

Getting back to the original point, the metropolitan experts are of the opinion that Dempsey did not take a complete cut and that his withdrawal from his firm was a technical act to get around the New York boxing law.

A fighter or a manager is not allowed, by the New York law, to engage in any way in the promotion of boxing matches. The law is violated, of course, but it wouldn't do for Dempsey to fight for a firm in which he had been advertised so widely as a partner.

And the inference, to make a long tale short, is that Dempsey is going to fight again and that he is bound to fight for Fugazy and Cole. And if they can't promote the fight one of their business rivals will have to cut them in plenty if they want to use Dempsey.

WAITING FOR THE OFFERS

Dempsey has said many times recently that he never would fight again. He has said just many times that he didn't know. And we think, as a result of numerous conversations on the subject, that Dempsey doesn't know what he is going to do. He isn't walking on his heels or anything like that, but he is just waiting to see what will transpire in the way of business. And if anyone is big-hearted enough to talk to him in terms of a million he will listen with all the listening power he has.

DIXON KAYOES MALONE

OAKLAND, June 13.—A technical knockout was awarded George Dixon in the fifth round of his scheduled 10-round encounter with Jack Malone here last night. Referee Eddie White stopped the fight after Dixon slit Malone's lip in the fourth and tore it wide open with a right and left in the fifth.

EXPERT THINKS BUNCH OF NEW EVENTS MIGHT

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 13.—How to stop Stanford is a question uppermost in the minds of college track coaches. "Dink" Templeton's youngsters have walked away with the I. C. A. A. A. track and field championship three years in succession, and show no signs of any intention of relinquishing the title.

A revised program of events may produce better balance in the intercollegiate program. If they introduce trap shooting, needle-work and mountain-climbing, the Stanford boys may not find it so easy to win all the first, second and third places, but I wouldn't put it past them.

"Dink" Templeton probably would teach them how to win, at that.

Too Many Field Events

Stanford won this year's I. C. A. A. A. championship without having to call upon a single track athlete.

Preponderance of strength in the field events would have given "Dink's" darlings the title if they hadn't had a runner or a hurdler at Franklin Field.

They had a few track athletes to boot, but scored enough points in the field to win.

Charley Parker, track and field expert of the New York Telegram, has a plan for better balance in the I. C. A. A. program.

"With slight adjustments," he says, "the balance which was lost when the I. C. A. A. introduced the discus throw and the javelin throw to a list of field events which already included the shot put, hammer throw, broad jump, high jump and pole vault, can be restored."

"A Natural Move"

"A quite natural move would be to introduce one or two track events such as a relay event, a 400-metre hurdle race, a steeplechase or a five-mile run."

"Any or all of the last three would serve to prepare American athletes for similar competition in the Olympic Games."

"In addition, as well as in fairness to the hard-working track athletes, an adjustment in regulation should be made whereby the field event athletes, or those of their number who compete in the broad jump, shot put, hammer throw, discus or javelin, would be required to earn their places in the final round of competition."

"In the track numbers, an athlete might register a world's record in his trial heat, yet be eliminated from the scoring in the final for his qualifying figures are forgotten."

Easy for Field Men

"The field athletes, in the five events listed, retain the marks made in the qualifying rounds, and, more often than not, they fail to match their qualifying figures in the final round of competition the last day of the meet."

"In this year's championships, for instance, only one shot-putter equalled or improved upon his trial mark, and only one javelin-thrower."

"Owing to the hold-over qualifying marks set in the first day of the recent meet at Franklin field, Templeton's team could have won the meet without sending a man into the final round of competition on the final day."

"Templeton and his friends were celebrating a victory before a final event was run off."

U. S. CONTENDER IS VICTOR IN ENGLAND

SANDWICH, England, June 13.—With a great exhibition of courage and golfing skill, John Dawson, of Chicago, came from behind in his fifth round match with E. L. McKinlay of Alexandria, this afternoon, to win, 2 and 1, and remain the only American contender left in the British Amateur golf championship.

After being two down at the turn of the 18-hole match, the stalwart Chicagoan fought his way back to win at the seventeenth. Earlier in the day, Dawson had defeated E. P. Kyle of the Malay States in the fourth round, 5 and 4.

Hoover Rejects Army-Navy Game Proposal

WASHINGTON, June 13.—President Hoover has rejected a proposal that he force resumption of athletic relations between Annapolis and West Point. The famous service classic will not be played this year.

The president has indicated to Army and Navy officials who sought to bring about a compromise on the three-year player rule, over which the two academies split last spring, that the energy and enthusiasm expended by the Middles and Cadets in football rivalry might well be thrown into competition in other realms of activity.

OCHOA Baffles BARRS IN CITY LEAGUE, 7 TO 3

"Zuse" Ochoa thrives on work and plenty of it. He proved that last night. He fast-balled the Kinslow Kubs to a 7 to 3 City league triumph over the dangerous Barr Lumbermen in the Bowl where just 24 hours before he had gone nine nerve-racking innings for the Santa Ana Stars against the Long Beach Acorns.

This "iron man" feat left the Kinslows and the likewise undefeated Tiernan Typewriter Kids high and dry on top of the City league crossbar and impatiently chaffing at the bit for next Wednesday night when they mingle in what virtually will determine the championship of the first half of the split season.

Unsteady at First

Ochoa started out like he was going to feel keenly the necessity of working at top pitch two important games on successive evenings. The Lumbermen worked him for a run in the second and two more in the third, enjoying a 3 to 0 lead at this juncture, but "Zuse" soon got his second wind and, as they say at the racetrack, was going away at the end. In the final analysis, his fast one had too much hop and his slow one too much slow.

On the other hand, Warren Sullivan, the good young slinger of the Barr ensemble, started out like nobody's business. He was tougher than nails at the outset and he was breezing along like an easy winner until his control got too good in the sixth and he began to make them too fat. Then and there the Kinslows got to him and, when they pulled into a commanding lead, Manager Franklin (Branch) Rickey called him to call on "Red" Thierly, his shortstop, to complete the trajectory dispensing task.

Barrs Bunch Bingles

The Lumbermen had to be content with four hits off Ochoa and they bunched three of them in the second and third innings. Warren Sullivan singled to start the second, took second on a passed ball, third on Rickey's sacrifice fly and scored on a wild pitch. "Rusty" Sullivan doubled with two away in the third and scored on "Red" Thierly's single. Thierly went to second on the throw to the plate and came around on wild pitches.

Successful singles by Everett Lutz and Ochoa scored John Lutz, who had been safe on a fielder's choice, brought in the first Kinslow run in the fourth. The Kubs manufactured five more in the sixth on singles by Norton, E. Lutz, Ochoa and Prather, a double by Sutton and an error. They made victory more secure by scoring another one in the seventh on Burns' single, an error and wild pitches.

The Bowl will be dark tonight, the El Corral-Hawley contest having been postponed. The score:

SAMSON LOSES TO ELKS. SUB FOR DECORSEY

BY RINGSIDER

The Orange County Athletic club lost a good bet last night. They used an upturn main event as a substitute for Johnny Decorsey against Welterweight Bert Samson and they would have been better off, financially and morally, if they had advertised the substitute, Tommy Elks, in the first place.

Decorsey's record was too uncertain to lure other than the regular Wednesday evening clientele through the turnstiles so the fight club's pocketbook took one on the chin. Elks, who has opposed some high class gladiators in the past year and whose record therefore would have needed no exploitation, might have helped the gate.

Substitutions always give Ringsider a pain in the neck but on behalf of Promoter H. T. Foust, Matchmaker Kid Mexico and the local club it must be said that it is seldom they have not given what has been advertised.

Elks Too Clever

As for the eight-round main event itself, Elks, of course, was too classy and clever for Samson. Tommy "coasted" for three rounds and then realizing his economic value had nothing to fear in a possible defeat, cut loose with both hands and outpointed Samson decisively, winning every post.

Bert spent a busy evening keeping out of Elks' way. Samson is a rugged fellow in the clinches. He beat Jimmie Rivers a few weeks ago by staying in close and flailing away at the midsection but he couldn't keep Elks handcuffed that way. Tommy knows all the tricks in the trade and he actually beat Samson at his own game, moving in and out of the clinches scientifically.

Johnny Ramies was awarded an unpopular decision over Matt Corden in the semi-windup, the fans greeting the verdict with the old Bronx cheer. Ramies was the aggressor but he actually carried only one round, the fifth, whereas Corden took the first, third and sixth and was no worse than even in the second and fourth. Corden slipped and fell in the second but it wasn't a knockdown.

Morin Laces Mission

"Curley" Morin, a sailor from the U. S. S. Texas, gave Aurelio Mission a sweet boxing lesson in the six-round feature preliminary. The tar made the Filipino look like a novice in virtually every round and made a home for himself here. Mission was too busy trying to save himself punishment to attempt his usual clowning.

Peter Jackson, an amateur sensation from Watts, defeated Kenneth Williams over the four-round route. This was the best bout of the night. Both lads, Jackson a dark colored man and Williams a light-hued darky, fought desperately but Jackson had the edge. He had Williams on the floor for nine in the second heat.

Although Jimmie Martinez, substituting for Peter Pina, kept his head so near the floor that he was hard to hurt, Louis Echeveste of Santa Ana, outpointed Martinez decisively in the eye-opener.

JONES HURLS NO-HIT GAME AS SHELLS BEAT CLUBMEN, CAPTURE LEAGUE LEAD

Earl Jones marched up the stairway to the Hall of Fame today. The veteran moundsman achieved the ambition of every pitcher when he hurled a no-run, no-hit game for the Shell Oil company against the Auto Club of Orange County in the Bowl yesterday, leading the Royal Dutchmen to a 7 to 0 victory that was more than just a victory. It put the Shell outfit in first place in the Santa Ana Twilight league, shoving the Clubmen, who have been setting a terrific pace in the late afternoon circuit, down to the second position. Until Jones held them in chancery the Auto Club had not lost a game this season.

Only four Clubmen got to first base. Miller, first up in the first inning drew a pass but died on second when Valentine grounded out and Bowe and Eastman expired on strikes. C. Berry walked in the next inning but got no further than second. Eastman was safe on an error in the fourth and Speed got a life on another infield bobbie in the fifth but that was all. Speed's blow was the only thing that looked like a safety. It was a slow hit ball that Dorman fumbled as he came in fast to make the throw to first base.

The Shells pecked away at Everett Berry all through the seven inning encounter. Jones drove in the first run himself, his single scoring Sands, who also had hit safely in the first frame. Dorman's double, Sands' single and Taylor's sacrifice fly netted another in the third. Singles by Ebersole and Hyde and a double by Sturzenegger made it 3 to 0 in the fourth.

Then, just to make the way easier for their no-hit pitcher, the Royal Dutchmen prodded Berry for four scores in the sixth. Ebersole started it with a double, Hyde was safe on a fielder's choice, Sturzenegger singled, Burkett was safe on a fielder's choice and Roehm hit a sacrifice fly. Several wild pitches also figured in the rally.

The Orange County Title company and the Richfield Oilers play today. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company meets the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps tomorrow in the week's final Twilight league tussle.

YER STRIKE ELY IF PAY ATTEMPTED

GEORGE KIRKSEY
Press Staff Correspondent

YORK, June 13.—Around circles a topic of conversation for next season. From sources comes information that the majority of major league players will be asked to accept cent reductions.

Recent one-day strike of the New York Yankees over non-payment of salaries brings up the question: What would happen if the league players declared a prominent players in the league have expressed themselves in favor of retiring from the game rather than accept a 25 cent cut.

It does the individual player a salary argument with the league, who has more than a year of getting his revenge. The league career of many a player has been shortened because of salary demands, just or unjust, and many have gambled with pennant chances, and even their desire to punish players of holding out. However, a general strike of baseball players all over the major league is something the major league might not be able to cope with. Even Commissioner Landis might be equal to the occasion of a general strike of major league players refused to accept a reduction in salary.

It is the opinion of several players that Babe Ruth holds the key to the situation. If the Babe recovers and has a good season, this group contends that Col. Ruppert is not likely to ask him to take a cut in salary and the rest of the magnates will follow suit.

Ruth's three-year contract calling for $70,000 a season terminates at the close of the current season, and Ruth has said that he will ask the Yankees for $100,000 if they offer him only a one-year contract.

Ruth, Gehrig and Hornsby are baseball's three highest-priced stars. Gehrig draws $25,000 and Hornsby, it is said, $40,000, from the Cubs.

Some of the other high priced players are "Dazzy" Vance $20,000, Ed Roush $18,000, Burleigh Grimes $17,000, Waite Hoyt $17,500, "Mickey" Cochrane $15,000 and Herb Pennock $15,000.

Carl V. Newman Made President Of Lemon Group

Carl V. Newman, manager of the San Joaquin Fruit company, was elected president of the Lemon Men's club of Southern California at a meeting held yesterday in the California Fruit Growers' exchange office, Los Angeles. Newman succeeds H. A. Schuyler, superintendent of the Leffingwell ranch at Whittier.

Dr. Matson, Escondido, was chosen as vice-president. C. S. Milliken, of the fruit exchange field department, was elected secretary. The chief discussion at the meeting was devoted to the question of better packing methods for lemons.

It is the opinion of several players that Babe Ruth holds the key to the situation. If the Babe recovers and has a good season, this group contends that Col. Ruppert is not likely to ask him to take a cut in salary and the rest of the magnates will follow suit.

Ruth's three-year contract calling for $70,000 a season terminates at the close of the current season, and Ruth has said that he will ask the Yankees for $100,000 if they offer him only a one-year contract.

Ruth, Gehrig and Hornsby are baseball's three highest-priced stars. Gehrig draws $25,000 and Hornsby, it is said, $40,000, from the Cubs.

Some of the other high priced players are "Dazzy" Vance $20,000, Ed Roush $18,000, Burleigh Grimes $17,000, Waite Hoyt $17,500, "Mickey" Cochrane $15,000 and Herb Pennock $15,000.

YES, SIR, WE'LL TAKE THAT TIRE! Not much good to you any more. Looks like it's apt to blow most any time. But we'll take it in on a brand new Silvertown or Silvertown Deluxe. Then you won't be worrying any more! That's a fine proposition, isn't it?

HERE'S some good news... for keen tire buyers.

For a short time only... we're offering motorists of this city a real trade-in proposition on tires.

Our used tire stocks are low. We want more. So we've decided to accept used tires in trade for brand new Silvertowns... just for a limited period.

Here's how our proposition works: Perhaps the tires on your car are getting old. Just bring them to us. We allow you good money for old rubber. We'll fix you up with brand new Silvertowns... then deduct the value of your old tires from the bill.

And when it comes to tires... you just can't beat Goodrich Silvertowns. Take our word for that. We've sold tires for a long time... and we know the kind of stuff that Silvertowns are made of from first-hand experience.

Why not come in and talk it over... we would like to meet you anyway... just to get acquainted. And we'd like to have you get this proposition in detail... and without delay.

versity. He remained long enough to be graduated with honors, but he never made use of his new profession.

The war came on. Bradford joined up and made life happy for his buddies by his improvised songs and sketches. On his return to civil life he forgot his legal training and became a floor-walker in a Newark department store. For four years he stayed here, going from one job to another, failing to "find himself" in any of them.

Finally he teamed up with Al Llewellyn, who was later to become his colleague in "The Collar Knights" at WABC, New York. They sang so well together that it was not long before they received an invitation from a Newark radio station to appear on the air. They did, and the response was electric.

Bradford liked the atmosphere of the radio station and spent much time there. One day one of the announcers was ill. Browne took his place.

Did Very Well

He did very well—so well in fact that he earned himself a job immediately. He became announcer and finally chief continuity man. In this capacity he turned out many interesting dramatizations which brought much fan mail in the early days of radio.

Bradford received an invitation from the Atlantic Broadcasting corporation in New York, then operating WABC and other stations. He accepted it. For a while things went rather quietly at WABC for Bradford Browne. He did much announcing. To this day he is known from coast to coast for his unique and appealing announcing of such features as "Majestic's Two Black Crows," "The Home Makers," and a large assortment of other Columbia features.

While only a few months at WABC, Bradford was busy day and night preparing surprises for his radio listeners which might not get on the air for many months, perhaps not for a year. He worked that long on one of his presentations!

On the other hand Browne has written a feature a scant 30 minutes before it was broadcast and even these hastily prepared scripts met with widespread approval in radio fandom.

One night that he didn't get a chance to write his "Tramp" act until one hour before time to put it on the air. For 30 minutes he pounded out copy on his typewriter. For the next 30 minutes he rehearsed his act in which were featured eight people, including a vocal quartet. The act was broadcast on time and, to the surprise of all, critics far and wide praised this particular dramatization as Mr. Browne's outstanding achievement.

Browne has even taken a chance at rural skits. He collaborated in the writing and production of "Oshkosh Junction," which ran for a long period on WABC.

Due to the purchase of WABC by the Columbia system, Bradford became a member of that broadcasting chain.

Bradford's newest production, "The Nit Wit Hour," broadcast over the Columbia system weekly, has met with immediate success. This act is a burlesque on serious radio features. The public has reacted to it just as it has to every other Browne presentation.

Farmers Profit By It

Market reports from Washington are put on the air before they are five minutes old. WOI is the only college station using leased wire and was one of the first to adopt this policy. Farmers say that they often get 25 cents more a hundred for hogs or a better price for their cattle because WOI's market reports enable them to hit the market at the right time.

Each morning an hour of classical and semi-classical phonograph records which have been carefully selected is broadcast. Out of 1000 letters whose contents were tabulated, 963 favored classical and semi-classical, 30 favored jazz, and seven wanted half of each.

This feature of the program is a result of the need for filler between other parts of the program and partly a result of a desire to interest city listeners. The music drew such favorable comment that it was made a regular part of the program.

"County Days" Popular

During the summer "county days" are designated. The Farm Bureau in each county brings a delegation and local talent when its period for broadcasting arrives. Rural orchestras, quartets, talks and other programs are put on the air. One county agent stated that by talking over WOI on county day he could reach more persons in his county than by holding a meeting in the courthouse.

In addition to farming subjects a definite period is set aside for household talks each morning. Talks on history, civics, literature and other cultural subjects are also given regularly. A book review and continued story reading hour has attracted much favorable comment.

More than 1000 letters have been received telling how housewives reserve this hour for darning socks or some similar task so they may listen to the program.

Iowa has approximately 100,000 farm radios, or more than any other state, according to a report from Washington.

Influence Of Radio Told By Head Of N. B. C.

Radio may be the means of making America an ideal democracy, M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company, says in a signed article in the June, 1929, issue of the Century magazine. The article contains highlights in the history of broadcasting from its inception eight years ago.

"If the future may be measured by the past, the next eight years will give the world fantastic events almost beyond the power of human visualization," Mr. Aylesworth says, adding that the brightest thing in the future is the influence of radio in making people understand each other.

The NBC executive pointed out the possibility of English-speaking people debating over the air questions of international relations. "This will make for better understanding and contribute toward the long-sought ideal of universal peace and brotherhood," he concluded.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Mather's Drug Store.—Adv.

Claude D. Hayward, Santa Ana high school graduate, received his doctor of philosophy degree from California Institute of Technology with the 1929 class graduating from that school on June 7. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hayward, 806 Cypress avenue.

Claude D. Hayward Plans To Leave July 15 For Eastern Position

Among the students receiving degrees from the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena this summer was Claude D. Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hayward, 806 Cypress avenue. At the annual commencement exercises held in Pasadena June 7 he received the degree of doctor of philosophy.

He was awarded the degree of bachelor of science three years ago, and that of master of science a year later. He is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and attended Santa Ana Junior college one year before entering the institute. He has accepted a position as research engineer for the General Electric company and will leave July 15 for Schenectady, N. Y., where he will take up his duties with that corporation.

Taxes Here High? Controller Riley Says They're Not

"Taxes in this town are too blankly blank high! Anything I have left over at the end of the year goes to the tax collector!" A common enough wall from Mr. Average Citizen and sometimes very much justified, but he should stop before he yells and take a look at his neighboring village for comparison.

As a matter of fact citizens of Santa Ana have a tax rate of $1.85 placed on a total assessment base of $22,281,365. These figures are compiled by State Controller Ray L. Riley, who gives as a means of comparison the highest municipal tax rate in the state as $4.10 and the lowest as 40 cents. Anyone interested enough can write to Riley for these extreme locations. "Cost of government goes up each year and the tax rate on property must be pushed up along with it," said Riley.

ACTIVITIES OF SCHOOL CITED BY PRINCIPAL

A resume of the 1928-29 Santa Ana high school year upon which the curtain will fall tomorrow shows a term exceedingly bright in interscholastic endeavors, according to a statement made today by D. K. Hammond, principal.

"Poly has been extremely successful this year," he declared. "In practically every line of work. Our athletic teams, debaters, publications and school government have enjoyed a splendid season."

The 1928 Ariel brought honor to Poly by capturing first place in Southern California, while the Generator, the high school weekly publication, won first and second in its class at two press conventions during the year.

The class "B" basketball team won the Southern California basketball championship for their class, while the varsity football team came within an ace of capturing the league title.

In personal honors two high school students proved their ability in competition during the year. LeRoy Arnold conquered all other spellers in Orange county, and placed tenth in a state meet held at Sacramento. Leanna McMath took second place in California in the California typing contest, and placed ninth in the United States.

Jerry Tannenbaum, commissioner of forensics, talked himself into several victories during the year, and proved himself the high school's premier debater.

The Santa Ana high school among the honor of being the first school in the United States to sponsor a club that produced the first complete motion picture ever made by a high school group. In making "College Daze," the Poly Movie club set a record that will be hard to beat by other clubs.

In dramatic and musical circles, the high school has exceeded other years by its high standard of entertainment offered. Eight one-act plays were presented during the year, as well as the annual senior class play, "Lilies of the Field," which scored a distinct success.

"The Fortune Teller," Victor Herbert's famous opera, closed the season for the school thespians. This production had a combined cast of high school and junior college students.

11 S. A. Students To Get Degrees In L. A. Tomorrow

Eleven Santa Ana students at the University of California at Los Angeles will receive degrees at ceremonies to be carried out tomorrow.

Seven candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts hailing from this city are Eugene Almeida Allen, Mary Rebecca Beasley, Jean Campbell, Goldie Jacobson, Myrtle Ketchum, Mary E. Rutledge and Julius Arthur Yale. There is one candidate for the degree of bachelor of education, Annette Jean Ramsey; and one candidate for the general elementary teaching credential, Maxaline Elizabeth Armstrong. Two Santa Ana students are candidates for kindergarten-primary credentials, Louise Narcissia Hampton and Elizabeth Palmer.

OLD DAYS IN S. A. RECALLED BY DELEGATES

"Send us to the hardest field." These were the words that brought Capt. and Mrs. E. I. Ames, formerly of the Salvation Army, to Santa Ana June 26, 1932. It was the same indomitable spirit that brought Mrs. Ames with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wright, over the plains to California in an ox train in 1892; and that at last won for Captain Ames recognition as an artist among the commercial illustrators of this country.

Captain and Mrs. Ames are among the enthusiastic delegates at the 23rd annual assembly of the Southern California district, Church of the Nazarene, which is being held this week at the Eboli clubhouse in this city. They are citrus growers in Orange county, Los Angeles county and Tulare county, and have made their permanent home at 1205 North Sierra Bonita avenue, Pasadena. R. H. Gilman, brother-in-law of Mrs. Ames, is recorded in California as being the first Valencia orange grower in the state.

Colonel Keppel, who was at that time district officer on the Pacific coast, sent the young couple to Santa Ana upon their urgent request to be sent to the hardest field of labor. Santa Ana then, as now, was recognized as a church community and the need for Salvation Army quarters here was not particularly evident. Therefore, the task of establishing such and maintaining it was considered difficult.

July 11, just 15 days after their

CONDITION OF VICTIM OF H. B. BURNS SERIOUS

Rushing back into the steam filled room from which he had just battled his way at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night in Huntington Beach, Neil Thornhill, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thornhill, of Costa Mesa, received additional severe burns in an effort to locate his father, whom he thought was in the room.

The lad is lying in a critical condition today at the home of his uncle, J. O. Thornhill, 502 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, under the constant care of his mother, suffering from third degree burns of his hands, face, chest and body, which are regarded by the attending physician as severe as can be borne and yet permit the victim a fighting chance for his life. Young Thornhill was brought to Santa Ana yesterday at the direction of his physician after he had received first aid treatment at the Huntington Beach Emergency hospital.

The burns resulted from the bursting of a steam line passing through a room that had been fitted up as sleeping quarters at the site of the pumping outfit operated by the victim's father and Glenn Lemon at Fourteenth and Olive streets, Huntington Beach. Young Thornhill was asleep on a cot in a corner of the room. The full force of the escaping steam and boiling water happened to be directed at the spot where the youth lay, which caused the burns about the upper part of the body as he fought his way out of the inferno. The burns from the hip down on the right side of his body were thought to have been received when he went back into the room in an effort to rescue his father, whom he thought was still there, but who had gone out to the tanks after the boy had fallen asleep.

Activities

Remaining in the executive position of president of the City Council, Parents and Teachers, Mrs. S. I. Preble, returned to office for the second term, conducted an interesting session on Tuesday morning in Room 11 of the high school group.

Special importance attached to the council's endorsement of various activities, including the candidacy for vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, of Mrs. F. O. McCulloch of Los Angeles, junior past president of the California congress, and the return to the national presidency of Mrs. J. F. Marrs, so recently a visitor in this city.

Mrs. Roy P. Horton, Mrs. Sam Preble and Mrs. Fay Spangler comprised the resolutions committee whose suggestions were adopted by the council. These included the Boy Scout resolutions protesting the cigarette advertisements on bill boards, showing women and girls smoking, a measure that the women were unanimous in endorsing.

Activities of the city council during the year have included the junior college loan fund, the health center, and work in Mexican schools. These will all be continued under Mrs. Preble's second administration.

Varied entertainment was offered two charming guests in the city last night, when Mrs. M. J. Walker, followed by an evening of bridge presented by Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wells in their beautiful home at 2026 Victoria Drive.

All the guests conspired to make the picnic dinner served in Irvine park, an enjoyable event indeed, and the two honorees were delighted with the beautiful surroundings and the added entertainment offered by dancing for the Orange Lions club was staging its annual party and invited the Santa Ana group to participate in the dancing.

Returning later to the Wells home, the group found everything in readiness for an exciting bridge session in which Mrs. Fred Crowell and Fred Newcomb carried off honors and were awarded the desirable prizes given by Mrs. Wells.

The picnicers included Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Victor Walker and their house-guests, Mrs. Koonz and Mrs. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. George Wells and their daughter Pauline, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Club Members Meet In Vandermaast Home

Adopting a rose and white color note for her decorations when entertaining members of the R.O.S.B. club at dinner last night, Mrs. Murray Vandermaast of 325 Wakeham street, made her table very lovely with its satiny pink damask, pink place cards and roses, with which the ivory china of her dinner service was most effective.

The delectable menu was served at 6:30 o'clock, to allow an evening sufficiently long to enjoy an exciting bistro contest. In this, George T. Calhoun scored high, Mrs. Sidney J. Babcock, second, and Douglas Peddy low. Each received a suitable reward. The R.O.S.B. members will meet again on Wednesday night, June 19, for a steak bake in Irvine park. Those sharing the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Vandermaast last night, were Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Oren Gullidge, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Babcock, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Peddy.

DON'S ANNUAL BANQUET HELD AT SANTA ANA COUNTRY CLUB

As last night's sun sank below the horizon, casting its shadows over Santa Ana Country Club, the curtain arose within the clubhouse on the last of the year's social events of Santa Ana junior college, the Don's annual banquet. One hundred and fifty students gathered around the banquet tables made attractive by quantities of flowers arranged in low baskets. Clever program and menu cards bearing a gallant Don in vivid colors marked the place of each student.

Interspersing the courses were musical numbers presented by Miss Georgia Belle Walton, violinist, and Hugh Rannels, baritone. Opening the program was the solo, "Old Man River," sung by Mr. Rannels accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong. His later numbers were "Invictus," and on request, the "Pagan Love Song," "Songs My Mother Taught Me" and "Spanish Love Song" arranged by Gravados were splendidly played by Miss Walton accompanied by Miss Armstrong.

New President Greeted
The banquet, presided over by the toastmaster, Willard White, was the occasion for the inauguration of the incoming officers of the Associated Students. The gavel engraved with the names of presidents since 1925 was duly handed over by Willard White, outgoing president to Robert Chapman, new president. Continued applause by the gathered students greeted the latter as he accepted the token of the presidency. That the new officers have made strides since the first activities at the college in September, was pointed out by Mr. Chapman in his acceptance speech. A call for co-operation during the coming year also rang out from the speech.

New officers installed were Kenneth Tanaka, vice president; Kenneth Tanaka, secretary; William Jerome, treasurer; Wylie Carley, commissioner of men's athletics; Miss Mildred Staples, commissioner of women's athletics; Baxter Geeting, commissioner of forensics; Miss Lavina Compton, commissioner of the Algor; Rodney, commissioner of the Don, and Miss Clara Kate Owens, commissioner of social activities.

Class Makes Gift
Presentation of four handsomely framed pictures, the gift of the graduates to the college was also included on the program with Edwin Gerhardt, president of the sophomore class officiating. Acceptance of the gifts was made by Robert Chapman. High points of the program were speeches by D. K. Hammond, president of the college, and McKee Fisk, dean. In speaking on "The Junior College Movement," Mr. Hammond characterized the tasks of the modern junior college as including more personnel work, more physical training and social opportunities, and furthering the understanding of business, industry, and political government.

The need and place of personnel work in the junior college was discussed by Dean McKee Fisk. It being revealed that through such work, the average of the college students is obtained and compared with that of other groups.

Responding to toasts were Walter Scott, William Roach, T. H. Glenn, Leonard Morris, Cecil C. Stewart, and George Tobias. Ushers for the occasion were Stewart McPherson and Oscar Hanson. Arrangements were carried out under the direction of Stewart McPherson, commissioner of social affairs, with Miss Ruth Tantiingler assisting with place cards, and Abbot Mason with decorations.

The guest list included the following: Oscar Hanson, Miss Georgia Belle Walton, Miss Ruth Armstrong, Hugh Rannels, Miss Agnes Todd Miller, D. K. Hammond, Ray Adkinson, Dean McKee Fisk, Miss Mable Whiting, Willard White, Miss Dorothy Harmon, Robert Chapman, Miss Marion Bruner, Kenneth Tanaka, Miss Mary Kikuchi, William Jerome, George Tobias, Edwin Gerhardt, Miss Sherrill Spurgeon, Walter Scott.

Miss Prichard Honored
By Associates in Hospital

Beneath the roof-tree of a cunning small house, suggestive of the home of her own which she will claim soon, Miss Gertrude Prichard, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prichard, 1105 Poinsettia street, and fiancée of Joseph Prevost Jr., recently found an assortment of lovely gifts for that "little dream house." The gifts were selected by her companion nurses at the Children's hospital in Hollywood, and presented at an affair as unique as it was delightful.

Miss Prichard's presence in the reception room of the Nurse's home had been requested by Miss Mary D. Bruce, director of nurses, upon the pretext of discussing some important professional topic. But behind a closed door were all her companions on the staff, ready to call "Surprise!" when the doors were open and the strains of Lohengrin were played by Miss Ida Welbourn.

The pretty pastel afternoon frocks of a formal party, were lacking but there was something very sweet and attractive in the severe white uniforms in which the guests, like their popular honoree, were gown-

ed. And the reception room, with its bright-colored modernistic furnishings, emphasized the charm of the all-white costumes. The clever idea of gift presentation was much admired, the small house standing on a tea wagon and given place of prominence in the room's decorations. Miss Prichard obtained her gifts by the simple expedient of lifting the roof of the cottage.

At the daintily served luncheon which was a part of the pleasant event, Miss Prichard told details of her approaching wedding. All present expressed regret that she is leaving the Children's hospital where she has been stationed ever since graduating from Seaside hospital, Long Beach, with the class of 1927.

Those who planned the pre-nuptial courtesy for her, and their classification on the hospital staff, were the two hostesses, Miss Mary D. Bruce, director of nurses, and Miss Marie Britherton, surgical supervisor; the Misses Lucille Hoyt, Bertha Zamora, Elsie Smith, and Mrs. Ruby Jilson, surgical nurses; Miss Ida Wench, instructor of nurses; Mrs. Galloway, dietitian; Miss Anna Valens, head of social service department; Mrs. S. Burgess and Miss Edith Wellen, admitting nurses; Miss Ida Welbourn, supervisor of infant department; Miss Ruth Crandall, supervisor of orthopedic department; Miss Mildred Holmberg, supervisor of surgical ward; Miss Thelma Hartman, supervisor of medical department; Miss Edna Smith, assistant supervisor medical ward; Miss Kathleen Crowley, charge of infant feeding department; Miss Ruth Touhey, charge of treatment room infant ward; and Miss Edith Hodgins, hostess of nurses' residence.

Grand Officers of
Y. L. I. Greeted
At Dinner

One of the most important meetings of the year Y. L. I. circles, was that of Tuesday night, when Capistrano Institute was honored by the official visit of the grand president, Miss Katherine Moriarty of San Francisco, together with other officers of the state organization.

In honor of the distinguished guests, a dinner party was given in Ketter's cafe, where a wealth of flowers added to the attractive appearance of the blue room. Nearly 70 guests were entertained, including the 16 members of Capistrano drill team, in addition to the state officers, Miss Moriarty, Miss Katherine Kelly of Los Angeles, grand second vice-president; Mrs. Stella Engelmann of this city, grand marshal; Miss Mary McCarty, San Francisco, grand director; and Miss Beryl Kennedy of Anaheim, institute deputy.

Dinner was followed by the evening session in Knights of Columbus hall, where the drill team presented its splendid work in the initiation of two candidates, the Misses Patricia Rosewald and Lola Diech. During the course of the evening, Capistrano Institute presented the grand president with a special gift, Mrs. Marie Rudolph, marshal, making the pleasing little talk on behalf of the chapter. After a program of informal addresses and other interesting features, the evening closed with a social hour during which toasted chicken sandwiches and coffee were served by a committee composed of Mrs. J. Ogden Markel, Mrs. Emil Wetzel and the Misses Anne and Gretchen Lieberman.

Yesterday representatives of the institute and the grand officers motored to San Juan Capistrano to take prominent part in the anniversary celebration at the mission, which gives the local chapter its name.

W. C. T. U. Observes
Flower Mission Day

The W. C. T. U. met at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Hogue, the vice president, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Amy Evans, who is spending the summer in the east. W. C. Jerome, county auditor, spoke on "Blood Control," showing the need of this project and reasons why the people of Orange county should vote favorably on this question.

The subject for discussion was "The Bible in the Public Schools" and was in charge of Mrs. A. A. Jones. Mrs. Law led the devotions, using the Bible as it is rejected in the schools, as her theme.

Mrs. Jones introduced the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Nazarene church, who gave a very strong and forceful address on the subject, "My Mother's Bible" was beautifully sung by Mrs. Blanche Roepke, who was accompanied by Mrs. Roy Dilkey. Mrs. T. W. Oglesby, director of flower mission, spoke on that department, and told of Jennie Casady, who founded this beautiful department. Many lovely bouquets were sent out to the sick and shut-ins.

Mrs. Thomas Vance invited the members of the W. C. T. U. to call on her and Mr. Vance on Saturday, June 15, at 420 West First street. This will be the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Vance.

The next meeting will be postponed one week and will be held on July 16, in charge of Mrs. J. H. Nicholson.

Santa Ana is to have a rare privilege in having the "Woman Orator of America," Mary Harris ARMOR of Georgia, also known as the "Georgia Cyclone," to speak here on Friday evening, July 12, and she also will be present at the annual W. C. T. U. picnic to be held Saturday, July 13, at Irvine park. Mrs. ARMOR is making a short tour of California and her speaking dates are few. The Union urges every person interested to keep these dates open for these addresses.

Ebell Section Ends Work of Year With Beach Party

A morning dip in the placid waters of Newport bay, was one of the enjoyable features of yesterday's meeting of the Second Household Economics section members of Ebell, who were entertained at their final session of the year, in the summer home of Mrs. Earl Morrow at Balboa Beach.

The morning swim was followed by a buffet luncheon at which the hostesses were Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Clyde Walker, Mrs. W. L. Grubb and Mrs. Emrys D. White. After selecting from the appetizing fare provided by the hostess group, the guests sought the attractively arranged small tables where sailboat centerpieces and vivid little sand pails serving as individual nut cups, suggested the seaside hospitality. Mrs. Walker had charge of the decorating, and was complimented upon her originality.

At a brief business session, Mrs. Ralph Smedley was elected leader to succeed Mrs. Emrys D. White, and Mrs. Roy H. Hall was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Mrs. Frederick Eley. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to bridge with Mrs. Robert G. Tuttle and Mrs. Roy Russell securing the attractive prizes offered.

Twenty-four guests shared the hospitality of the hostess group, including Mrs. John I. Clark, welcomed as a new section member, and Mrs. Susan Rutherford and Miss Carolyn White, section guests.

Discipline Doesn't Mean Physical Punishment

Parents are prone to forget that consideration and the other graces are acquired, not born, in the average child.

Disciplining a child by physical punishment is not exactly "crick-et," to my way of thinking. Pain and joy alike are quickly forgotten by the child.

For discipline to be effective the child's heart and understanding must be reached. I can well remember an incident in my own childhood which will illustrate my point.

Servants were unobtainable and to have dishes washed and the table set was a marvellous help to our busy mother. But did we do it? WE DID NOT! As soon as our small tummies were filled we slipped away and back to play, out of earshot.

We were warned that drastic punishment was in the making if we did not come to time, but on we went, to be met one evening on return home with a locked BACK door and a very courteous, cold welcome via the front door. Even our bedroom was locked and we were escorted to the far-away guest room to sleep in solitary state. Not a thing was asked of us for three days, and the frigid courtesy was not abated for an instant.

At the end of three days it dawned on us that capitulation and rubbing of our grimy noses in dirt was the only way to get back into good grace, so we took our dose and to the end of our lives neither one will forget just how we felt, nor how GLAD we were to be allowed to help Mother.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Casserole Beef

3 pounds short ribs
10 small onions
1/2 cup diced carrot
4 tablespoons cooking fat
2 cups canned tomato

with which they will lick their chops over his food.

But we who are trained to our salads and light sandwich lunches, to say nothing of real breakfasts with cereal and cream in the coffee and even a platter of bacon and eggs, are apt to look askance upon a dinner of all-butter-cook-ed meats and vegetables, or sigh for a real American breakfast though in this respect, whether for that reason or not, perhaps the continentals have the more healthful slant. We are told, too, that hot breads aren't good for us, but we continue demanding our pancakes and waffles for break-fast.

Salt and pepper

1/2 cup uncooked rice

Have the ribs cut in convenient sizes for serving and after wiping and cutting away discolored bits ear in the hot fat and transfer to the casserole. Slightly brown the onions in the remaining fat and place them around the beef, the diced carrot over the beef with a generous sprinkling of salt and pepper.

Wash the rice thoroughly, mix with the canned tomato and heat before pouring over the meat. Add sufficient hot water to cover all ingredients, cover closely and cook in a slow oven for three hours.

When almost done, taste and add whatever more seasoning is necessary. A little more water may be needed but use it sparingly. A good idea for thickening the finished dish is to roll the ribs in flour before browning them.

Just 3050 calories make the total in this recipe which is sufficient to serve eight. Everything is here but a starchy vegetable and this may be either baked potatoes for economy's sake or macaroni in some form.

With the slow oven heat and extra space a loaf cake should be baked along with the casserole.

And what for dessert? Why not baked rhubarb with either apple or a little of pineapple? Layers of rhubarb and apple sweetened to taste, covered and baked slowly are very nice.

CULTIVATING A CHARMING PERSONALITY, is an interesting pursuit of every human being possessed of a normal love of living. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for an interesting leaflet on this question.

TOMORROW'S recipe is to be a Fish Loaf.

YOST BROADWAY

The making of a talking picture, such as "Alibi," Roland West's under-world thriller for United Artists, now showing at the Broadway theater, involves an entirely new scheme of things in studio technique. And to the layman, if he could get inside a studio and watch a company in action, it wouldn't seem nearly as exciting as "silent drama" production.

Scene from "ALIBI" ROLAND WEST'S "ALIBI"

for it is one of the strongest dramas presented since the introduction of speech to the films. Its cast is one that has been well-chosen to portray the dramatic features of the story and includes Chester Morris, Eleanor Griffith, Pat O'Malley, Regis Toomey, Elmer Ballard, Purnell B. Pratt, Irma Harrison, Al Hill, James Bradbury Jr., Kernan Cripps, Harry Stubbs and De Witt Jennings.

WEST END

Flash, the uncanny police dog who is seen in "Honeymoon," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer farce-comedy which is now billed at the West End theater, is one who doesn't believe in capital punishment. Seeing a dog-catcher's Flash appears with two of the screen's greatest laugh-provokers, Polly Moran and Harry Gribbon, both masters of the art of creating mirth. Another famous player in the cast is Bert Roach, no mean laugh-getter himself.

"Honeymoon" is one of the most sensationally funny comedies that the screen has yet revealed. It's the story of a honeymoon that gets not only thwarted but turned into a byword of commotion by the faithful devotion of a dog.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Warner Baxter, famous on stage and screen, sets a new record for being killed in his latest picture, the all-dialog Fox Movietone production, "Thru Different Eyes," which is the current feature at the Walker theater.

Baxter gets killed no less than three times.

"Thru Different Eyes" is a mystery in which a man is on trial for the murder of his best friend—played by Baxter. First, are seen events leading up to the tragedy, two shots in the dark, and Baxter lying dead on the floor, presumably a suicide. That is the version of the homicide as seen by the defense. Next, viewing the events through the eyes of the district attorney, Baxter is seen brutally shot down in cold blood by his friend. His third "death" is shown as it actually occurred, as told by a mysterious girl who forces her way into the courtroom where the trial is in progress.

Baxter is co-featured in "Thru Different Eyes" with Mary Duncan and Edmund Lowe.

6 Reasons why citrus growers get higher return by marketing through the Exchange

- Continuous Supply. Because it represents every citrus producing area in the state, the California Fruit Growers Exchange is able to keep the trade continuously supplied throughout the year. The Exchange is headquarters for citrus fruits, handling 75 per cent of California's crop.
- Better Information. For marketing purposes the Exchange has divided the country into 61 districts. From each of these territories Exchange representatives send daily, by telegraph and mail, reliable data on sales conditions. Thus the Exchange is in the best position to take instant advantage of every market change for the benefit of its members.
- Salvaged Salesmen. In these marketing centers the Exchange maintains its own sales offices, manned by its own experienced salesmen for the sole purpose of representing its shippers.
- Sunkist Advertising. For 22 years the Sunkist brand has been continuously advertised. No other marketing agency offers citrus growers the accumulated advantages of national advertising, the use and good-will of so valuable a trademark.
- Complete Service. In addition to its marketing service the Exchange operates a supply company, by-products plant, research laboratory, control bureau, traffic and claim department, dealer service department and other similar facilities in order to conserve and increase the grower's returns.
- Lower Cost. The enormous volume of fruit handled by the Exchange makes possible this complete service at a

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY NAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

The forest fire was drawing near, which filled the Tynymites with fear. They headed for the water, just as fast as they could go. As flames arose, 'twas bright as day. Then smoke began to roll their way. "My goodness," shouted Coppy, "everything seems all aslow."

Then Coppy shouted, "Hey! More speed. That is the one thing that we need. If we can reach the water, we all will be safe and sound. It isn't very far from here. I fear. Come on, let's keep our pep up. We must cover lots of ground."

And so they ran on, just like mad, and shortly they were very glad to spy the stream of water. "We have made it!" Scouty cried. "This run has made my old heart thump, but all we need to do is jump. It's certain that we can't get burned when we are once inside."

Then Coppy interferred, and said, "Aw, getting wet I really dread. I think we're safe right on the shore. The flames won't come this far. But, if they do, I have no doubt that we can quickly splash them out. The best thing for us all is just to stay right where we are."

All of a sudden Clowny cried, "Where is the Scarecrow?" Then he sighed, "we've left our good friend far behind. I'll have to rescue him. The rest of you can wait right here. Then you'll not have a thing to fear. I'm not afraid to try this task, 'cause I feel right in trim."

So, off he ran, and near the blaze he found the scarecrow in a daze. Brave Clowny grabbed him by the arms and, with a merry shout, he pulled him to his shoulders quick and dragged him o'er the ground real slick. "Oh, thank you," cried the scarecrow. "You have saved my life, no doubt."

FIXING STANDARDS TOO EARLY

There has spread over the country a general denunciation of certain tobacco companies for using the billboards to show women and girls using cigarettes. Recently Senator Smoot joined in the protest against the posters which he says show "adolescent girls" and offered a resolution to amend the pure food and drugs act to give the department of agriculture control over false advertising.

All women appearing on posters invariably appear young enough to be adolescents, so one can't quite understand why Senator Smoot takes exception to the American Tobacco Company's pictures because they are of "adolescent" girls. But that is a point quite aside from the serious aspect of the spread of cigarette smoking among girls.

As with censored books and pictures, there is always present the danger that the louder the protests, by adults, the more attractive will appear the thing protested against. The girls may come to regard smoking as very attractive for many of them desire above all things to be "smart," their definition of "smart" involving daring and style.

It is a difficult situation which confronts the parents in this matter of smoking. And with forces like attractive billboard advertisements lined up on the opposite side the task is especially difficult.

There are some strong arguments which can be advanced against girls and women smoking, however. Among them is that of personal cleanliness. Advertisements of cures for halitosis are as familiar as those for tobacco, yet an individual reeking with a sour tobacco odor is about as disagreeable, in close proximity as anyone could be. And some of the halitosis advertisements are as applicable for the girls and women so reeking with the odor of tobacco that a fellow would get only about as much "kick" out of kissing them as kissing a boy classmate.

Girls used to form their ideals from those with whom they came in contact, their mother's friends, their teachers, their club leaders. Today they are also largely influenced by the pictures in the magazines which come into their homes. There they see a style and luxury presented which is very appealing, for everyone loves the beautiful. But there is a great discrepancy between life, as they actually make contact with it, and the pictures they see.

This discrepancy results in a tragic dissatisfaction or ridiculous efforts to adjust luxuries and conduct suitable only to the very wealthy to moderate living conditions. In other words, great pretensions in something which cannot be carried through in particulars. The result is a false appearance.

Fortunate are the parents who can counteract influences of material luxuries and restrain their children from adopting modes of conduct which are beyond and false to the standards of the average American home. But it cannot be done if the standard of the home itself is always that of "Keeping Up with the Joneses."

Sometime ago Kathleen Norris wrote a story entitled "The Foolish Virgin," which was the story of a young girl who had a very good time but committed some slight indiscretions which marked her, and resulted in her isolation from the social life of the town in which she had lived and been brought up. The sad, tragic part of the story was that the "Foolish Virgin" didn't have an inkling until after she had overstepped the bounds of the social standards of her town that the penalty would be so great nor so quickly meted out. Then, when it was too late, she began to have regrets. That is one of the gravest dangers of the smoking habit that a young girl, after she has joined the class of those who smoke, may find that the society she admires and really likes the most is not the smoking and drinking set, as she thought it was in her younger years, but a set that has no room for a jaded, smoking and drinking young girl about whose good character there are grave doubts, because her conduct has not been irreproachable. And then, when that realization comes, it is too late—she has made known her standards and ideals, though unfortunately she alone realizes that they had not really formed before she revealed them. But she must stay with the set she has chosen, even after she discovers that they are not as pleasing as they appeared on the billboards.

LABOR TROUBLES STILL ON IN THE SOUTH

The strike at the rayon mills of Elizabethton, Tenn., has been settled, and 4000 workers have returned to their jobs with practically all their grievances recognized and adjusted and the machinery established to make further misunderstandings between employers and workers less likely to come to the rupture stage. Among the textile mills of the Carolinas and Georgia, however, the fight is still on, with the inevitable shootings and riotings which are rather characteristic of the southern hill region. The killing of the chief of police and deputy sheriffs and police officers in Gastonia, N. C., by strikers has aggravated the situation in those parts very seriously.

The South is paying very dearly for its industrial growth just now. It is beginning to be recognized that the efforts of Chambers of Commerce in the South to induce industries to come in have not been wisely directed. The textile industry, anyway, like the coal industry, is a sick industry. It is a question whether adequate wages can be paid to the workers in that industry to guarantee industrial peace. And for the Chambers of Commerce of the South to advertise far and wide its cheap labor has had a very bad effect upon the sturdy people from the hills, all of whom are very individualistic and of American stock. When the mountaineer gets mad, and he is mad, he cannot be clubbed into submission. He is too handy with the gun himself, and he is very much more self-reliant than the docile immigrant workers of the North. The situation, however, as we know it, is not hopeless. A conciliatory spirit and an understanding of the psychology of the mountaineer will accomplish a great deal.

A herd of deer roams the Illinois bottoms near Peoria, says a dispatch. Probably they fled for safety from the Chicago zoo.

THE BAPTISTS MAKE A SECOND CHOICE

We notice that the Northern Baptist Association is soon to convene in Denver, Colorado. The committee of this organization had selected as their keynote speaker, Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal church, who is also President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

However, a protest was raised by several of the Baptist ministers to Bishop McConnell speaking, on the ground that he was too modern in his views. In consequence of this, the invitation to him to address the association was withdrawn, and another speaker substituted.

It is extremely difficult for some of us to listen to any ideas with which we are not in agreement, and it is very natural for us to think that those things which we do believe have the stamp of divinity upon them. It is unfortunate, however, that there is not a higher degree of tolerance and charity shown among Protestant ministers and denominations.

It is particularly disturbing when one of the large denominational bodies takes such a public action in respect to the President of the Federal Council, which might raise a serious question concerning his dependability. Fortunately, Bishop McConnell is so entrenched in the hearts of the people of the country and in the educational world as to leave him uninjured. But this does not vindicate the episode.

New Romance In Alaska

Imperial Valley Press

Some of aviation's most noteworthy performances are affairs about which most of us do not hear at all!

Far up in Alaska there are commercial pilots who, as part of their regular jobs, do things that would make them famous if our attention were focused on them. They are writing a new tale of romantic adventure for that distant land; a tale as thrilling and exciting as anything that occurred during the days of '98.

A short time ago two Alaskan flyers, Noel Wien and Calvin Cripe, took off from Fairbanks, Alaska, and made a 2300-mile round trip to Cape North, Siberia, in a single-motored plane—not as a "stunt," but as a regular, commercial job. The flight is worth reading about.

On the outward trip their plane carried half a ton of food supplies for the trappers and traders at Cape North. The flight was not particularly perilous until they reached the Bering Strait; but from then on their lives depended on their sturdy Wasp engine, for there was not one safe landing place all the rest of the 600 miles to Cape North.

At Cape North they landed on a makeshift field that had been cleared in the snow. The temperature was 40 below zero. The next morning, after unloading their cargo, they took on half a ton of furs, valued at $150,000, for the return trip. The plane nearly cracked up on the rough, hummock-strewn landing field. Then, once in the air, an oil vent froze, and Cripe had to keep reaching out the window every ten minutes to open it with his knife. So the flyers headed for Nome and stopped there over-night, continuing back to Fairbanks next day.

That flight was really remarkable. A 2300-mile trip over dangerous territory, under atrocious weather conditions, carrying a "pay load" of half a ton each way! Truly, the romance of Alaska is getting some worthy additions.

Ban Them With Slogans

New York Times

In this much besieged country it is not surprising to find that a committee, supported by the Art Centre and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr., is offering a prize to high school students for the best pithy lines epitomizing the need of banning ugly billboards.

The value of such phrases in selling is well known. Even in political campaigns good slogans have been most useful. In the present instance sentiment is ripe for crystallization. The country is awakening to the need of fighting the desecration of the countryside. Many organizations are taking up the campaign. A good slogan will do much to direct action.

As many as six words may be used. This is somewhat longer than the average catch-phrase. But the fact that a double idea is to be conveyed may make a long slogan necessary. On the one hand the necessity of saving the landscape is to be stressed. On the other is the inappropriateness of billboards outside of commercial districts. It is not enough to demand that the countryside be kept visible. Positive action also must be suggested.

Laxity

Fresno Bee

Orange and grape fruit from the area in Florida which is infested by the Mediterranean fruit fly have been seized in Los Angeles by county authorities. They were carried in the dining cars of transcontinental trains.

If that is the best the railroads can do in the way of co-operation, they certainly need educating. The Mediterranean fruit fly, if it got into California, would be a major tragedy. It is a major tragedy in Florida.

Yet one's sympathy with Florida's affliction is greatly lessened by the fact that her authorities are evidently so lax as to permit fruit that might carry the infection to leave the state.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

AT THE TALKIES

The voice of the villain, of course
Is with hatred and rancor endowed
You expect it is going to be hoarse;
You are sure it is going to be loud.
And when it reverberates over your head
Like a sudden explosion of thunder,
Although you may wince for an instant in dread
There is little occasion to wonder.

But the heroine, bless her dear heart,
Is delicate, mild and petite Betting her lovely part
Which is meant to be gentle and sweet.
She has the large eyes and the soft rounded cheeks
Which pertain to the feminine gender,
And of course you believe, when the little thing speaks
That her voice will be pleasantly tender.

But hark, as she sits in the light
Of the mellow and summery moon
On a lovely Los Angeles night
Somewhere in the middle of June!
She speaks, but she speaks with a deafening boom
That echoes throughout the environs
Of the house where you sit in the echoing gloom,
Like a half dozen fire-truck sirens.

Being one of the masculine race—
A susceptible person as well—
When I gaze at a beautiful face
I am bound by a magical spell.
Of life and romance I am free to protest
Lovely woman is always the center,
But I still am convinced she is not at her best
When she roars out her lines like a Stentor.

BADLY NEEDED
Having succeeded in paying most of the Democratic campaign debt, Mr. Raskob might listen to overtures from Germany.

AN ADDED BURDEN
There used to be two things a man couldn't escape—death and taxes. Now his neighbor's radio makes a third.

INEVITABLE
It has been found that the earth wobbles, which is not surprising seeing that it is run pretty much by politicians.

Are Profits "Something for Nothing?"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

"Anyone who pockets business profits," says a New York professor, "obtains something for nothing."
Is that strictly true? Let us see. Suppose a man lends anything—buildings, money wherewith to buy them, money to advance as wages; in short, capital in any form. In every case he contributes something and runs the risk of losing it.

If, instead of losing what he lends, he gains a profit, it cannot be said that he has obtained something for nothing.
A farmer who lends his tractor or his money to a neighborhood enterprise, and receives part of the income as a reward, knows that he is not receiving something for nothing. An engineer who deposits his savings in a Brotherhood bank, does not regard the interest he receives as something for nothing.

Now, there is no essential difference between lending a man capital goods and lending him the money wherewith to buy capital goods. Or between lending to one man and lending to an organization of men. Nor does it matter whether the organization is called a bank, or a co-operative society, or a corporation. In every case there is risk of loss.

To induce anyone to take that risk there must be a prospect of gain. If the gain is realized it is not "something for nothing"; it is a reward for risk-bearing. And every business man MUST run risks.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

SEEING AND STARTING PROBLEMS

It is commonly assumed that the most valuable ability is the ability to solve difficult problems.

The fact is, I think, that the solving of problems is the last and least difficult achievement in the average organization.

There are four things we must do with our problems, viz.:

First, we must "see" the problem.

Second, we must "study" the problem.

Third, we must "state" the problem.

Fourth, we must "solve" the problem.

As an administrator, I find that I can secure the services of ten men capable of solving even the most difficult problems to one man who, confronted by an unsatisfactory situation or process, is able to see what the problem really is, to study it in its entirety, and to state it with clarity.

Once a problem is seen, studied, and stated, there are usually dozens of experts readily available who can solve it.

That is why humanity has always, in the end, looked with veneration upon its seers.

The men who have made the greatest contributions to government, to religion, to science, to industry, to education have not been the problem solvers but the problem-seers.

One of the perils involved in our excessive worship of specialization is that we are training a race more gifted in the solving of the seeing of problems. Our modern factories and universities are, by and educating for knowledge rather than for insight and resource in seeing the new thing that needs to be done.

"It is one of the greatest dangers of modern life," says Zimmern, "that we are inclined to give up the attempt to study difficult problems as a whole, to relieve our consciences by parts of them to specialists in their turn, to disclaim responsibility for general conclusions."

Here is a question that everything to us individual, nationally: Can we salvage the thing of the spirit of the age of specialists?

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

UNDUE PRIDE

The best of us are thoughtless now and then. The most conscientious of mothers sometimes mistakes her wishes for her child's desires.

"No, Kathleen never has gone to camp. The child cannot bear to be away from me for a single day. She tells me everything. We are the best of chums. No, she wouldn't care to go to camp."

Kathleen looked wistfully at her mother. She was fifteen years old and had never been on the street alone. She had never bought anything without her mother's advice, the close-up, personal kind that never takes a chance of losing hold. "No, my dear, you don't want that. You have much better taste than that. You want this one."

Kathleen had been escorted to and from school. She had never made out her own list of guests for her parties. She had never in all the fifteen years of her life had an opportunity to feel alone and free supervision.

"She is rather retiring and shy," said her teachers. "She is a very intelligent girl but seemingly makes no use of her powers. She never offers to help in any of the little affairs of the schools, never takes any definite step toward anything. We would like to see a bit more initiative."

It is a mistake to think that any adult can be a chum to a child. Adults can be fine friends, earnest advisers, helpful loving leaders, but they are not and they cannot be to those of the same age as children.

A young girl wants to talk silly things like boys and school jealousies and politics and future hopes. She wants to tell each other about the personal things such as father says and what mother and what brother does and to be made of it all. You can like that to a grownup mother matter how much you love her. You are mistaken if you think your son or your daughter first fill her need of companionship are making a mistake if you, keep either of them from "silly." They must be complete and girls in every stage of growth and idle chatter and barked opinions and the rest of part of the growth.

You can't keep a child supplied until the moment for his exit into wisdom and power arrive. You must arrest his growth and enter into his estate in that state if you are not careful. You can't keep him from his growth full away.

You can hold your child's dence better by feeling him own hampering fears than by him to you. That is a mistake. The note of pride in the voice says, "We are perfect chums, that of an undue and may pride."

THE WAR DEPARTMENT

On this date in 1776 Congress created the first United States Department of War. It differed considerably from the present-day department, but it was the forerunner.

It was not until 1789 that Congress provided for the Department of War as it is constituted today. In 1776 this branch of the federal government was little more than a Congressional committee. Now the secretary of war is a member of the cabinet, ranking third in the line of succession to the presidency.

He has charge of all military affairs, subject to the direction of the president, the distribution of stores, the signal service, the survey and improvement of harbors and the administration of insular possessions. He is required to make an annual report to the president, showing the number and distribution of our military forces, and a report of departmental expenditures.

The original war chosen 153 years ago today up as its first business an agitation into the amount of tary stores in the hands of colonists.
